

AWFUL STORY OF DEPRAVITY

Grandfather and Uncle Arrested
for Terrible Crime

ARE NOW IN COUNTY JAIL

HAVING BEEN BOUND OVER TO GRAND
JURY BY THE MAYOR

The Young Girl Who Makes the
Charge Is Now in the Dayton
Rescue Home.

A story, remarkable for the gross immorality and degeneracy concerned in it, became public today, and the similarity to the now famous Terra-nova case which is on trial in the city of New York, is causing it to attract considerable attention. The matter came to light about a month ago, but owing to the fact that no definite action had been taken by the authorities it was not made public.

The parties concerned in the case are all residents of Central avenue, this city. The character about which the appalling incidents of the affair center, and who will be the prosecuting witness, is 14 years old Pearl Boyles, and the persons against whom the charge, serious in nature, is preferred, are none other than the child's grandfather, Jesse Kimble, aged 60 years, and her uncle, Albert Kimble aged about 25 years.

The investigation of the case has been in progress for some time by plain clothes men at the instance of persons directly interested. On Friday night the necessary steps were taken and charges were preferred against the men by J. A. Kraver, one of the secret service men employed on the case. The parties were arraigned before Mayor McCleery in police court Saturday morning and pleaded "not guilty." They were taken under bond of $500 each and placed to the county jail. The hearing of the uncle, Albert Kimble, will take place Tuesday morning, while that of the grandfather was set for Thursday afternoon.

The child, Pearl Boyles, is an orphan, and is claimed to have lived with her uncle and grandfather since June of last year. A short time ago the Day Nursery authorities took charge of her and on Tuesday last she was sent to a rescue home in Dayton. It is understood that the girl in her statements to the authorities said that she had no other place to go and no manner of supporting herself. It was further learned that at one time she stated that on various occasions she had declared she would expose her relatives, but that she was threatened on these occasions and compelled to remain.

The two Kimble men charged with the crime have little or nothing to say and when an Advocate reporter called at the county jail he was informed that at the request of the prisoners and their attorneys, Smythe & Smythe, no one would be permitted to see them, and especially no reporters "or other curious persons." The uncle of the girl, shortly after his arrest, of course denied the charge, stating that the girl was naturally immoral, and that he had used all of his influence to correct her. He is a rather well known character about the public square, being frequently employed to clean up about various bars and saloons on the square.

The details of the life of the parties since the girl has resided there, as can be learned at present are unfit for publication, and of such a nature as to arouse considerable feeling of indignation among those who are familiar to any degree with the circumstances.

STILL ALIVE.

Datto Ali, Reported Dead, Is Organizing an Insurrection.

Manila, May 26.—Datto Ali, the leading Mindanao insurgent, who was reported killed Oct. 22 last, is declared on good authority to be still alive. It is said he is with Dattos Enok and Mopah, organizing an insurrection between Davao and Dumanai. They are said to be buying rifles and ammunition. The sultan of Ganassi confirms this report and declares that he has communicated with Datto Ali, who at the time he was reported killed, escaped, though desperately wounded. Ali, though rolled into mosquito netting and bedding and taken away by some of his followers. A man resembling Ali was buried by Captain McCoy, who headed the column sent against him.

WOULD FORCE A CONFLICT

Peasant Representatives in Parliament Outline a Plan.

AGITATE AGRARIAN PROBLEM

Czar's Response to the Address in Reply to the Speech From the Throne in the Hands of the Premier—Question of Amnesty and Other Matters Discussed.

St. Petersburg, May 26.—The members of the peasant-workmen group of extremists in parliament, who number 112, have decided that if parliament adopts a vote of lack of confidence in the ministry and the government declines to appoint a cabinet then from the majority they will resign to force a conflict. It is positively stated that the leader of the Constitutional Democrats are not holding any secret negotiations with the government and the prospect of their being able to immediately put through an agrarian measure is receding. M. Naboukoff, a leader of the Constitutional Democrats, estimates that a month must elapse before the final bill is prepared and the interim will be occupied in the discussion and passage of the personal liberty bill.

Premier Goremykin will read before the lower house of parliament the government's response to the address in reply to the speech from the throne and announce the government's policy. The purpose of Mr. Goremykin's trip to Peterhof was to read to Emperor Nicholas the final draft of the cabinet's declaration of policy, and was not connected in any wise with the rumored shift in the ministry, which, however, is possible at no distant day. The emperor, at the last moment, advised a few changes in the declaration. These caused a hurried meeting of the cabinet, at which alterations were drafted and inserted.

In delivering the declaration, Premier Goremykin, who is not especially gifted as a speaker, will adhere strictly to the formal text, printed copies of which will be distributed to the members of the house. The Conservative-Liberal newspaper, Strana (Country), which claims to have inside information, says that the declaration will take up and answer point by point the demands on the all-important agrarian question being a flat pronouncement on the inviolability of private property and a recommendation that the solution be sought in improving and intensifying methods of agriculture and the migration of the surplus population to the sparsely settled regions of Siberia and Central Asia.

The position of the government on the amnesty and agrarian propositions will not satisfy the general cry. A dispatch from Moscow says that denial of full amnesty probably will be followed by a general strike. Similar news has been received from other industrial centers.

The constitutional Democratic members of the house are caucusing on the agrarian question, which evidently is the most perplexing problem thus far encountered. A great diversity of opinion is manifested. Apparently it is realized that there will be great difficulty in formulating a law which, however it may be drafted, is bound to be subject to attack from the party of the right and left.

THREW CARBOLIC ACID IN GIRL'S EYES

Postoria, May 26.—William Hahn, 24, married, was arrested today charged with throwing carbolic acid into the face of pretty Emma Dondeinger, aged 19, last night. The girl's father swore out the warrant. During the absence of Mr. Hahn's wife recently, the girl was a domestic at his home.

Express Train Derailed.

Schenectady, N. Y., May 26.—Express train 34, New York Central railroad, was derailed at Hoffmann early this morning. Eight express and baggage cars jumped the rails, blocking traffic in such a manner that all trains are now being sent over the detour. Six horses in one of the derailed cars were killed and one man, an express messenger, was injured.

The wreck was presumably the result of the fish plates being tampered with by striking Italian section hands who have been parading the tracks between Hoffman and Amsterdam.

NOTHING OFFICIAL YET.

London, May 26.—A Paris dispatch today says a telegram has been received from Peking which mentions reports that the emperor of China is ill. There is a rumor even that the emperor is dead.

NORWAY'S POET AND DRAMATIST, HENRIK IBSEN.

THE HOUSE WHERE IBSEN WAS BORN

Henrik Ibsen, 78 years old, Norway's greatest poet and dramatist, died at his home in Christiania on Wednesday afternoon. Although Ibsen's literary activity ceased some years ago when an apoplectic seizure forced him to refrain from mental effort he had continued to be a familiar figure in the life of Christiania and was frequently seen driving in the streets. His sudden removal therefore deeply impressed the capital. King Haakon, immediately upon receipt of the news of Ibsen's death, transmitted to the widow his own and Queen Maud's sympathy and condolences. Public bodies are formally recording the national grief at the loss of this foremost figure.

SENSATIONAL TESTIMONY IS GIVEN TODAY

Witnesses Tell of Standard
Oil's Methods Showing
How Competition
Is Crushed.

Cleveland, May 26.—In the Interstate Commerce Commission's oil probe today, W. E. McEwan, of the Peerless Transit company, independent former stenographer to the chief clerk of the Lake Shore railroad, testified that the Standard Oil Tank Line cars are allowed mileage between terminals, while the independents are charged passenger mileage.

From here to Chicago the Standard cars are allowed 357 miles, while the independents are allowed 42 cents a car. He said a daily report of the movements of the Standard's cars is made by the Lake Shore and sent to the Standard offices. Independent cars, without reports, are subject to long delays. He said clerks for the Lake Shore receive regular pay from the Standard monthly from New York. He said he protested to the Lake Shore and asked for the Peerless company the same mileage the Standard received. He said when he and his employers gave proof of discrimination, consideration was given the Peerless.

W. D. Brickell, former publisher of the Columbus Dispatch, was called to testify concerning the alleged subsidizing of Ohio papers by the Standard Oil company. Malcolm Jennings, conducting an advertising agency at Lancaster, Ohio, said he furnished reading matter about the Standard not marked as advertising matter. Z. B. Ellis, an independent operator, testified that the Standard bribed his teamsters and employees of other independents to give the Standard reports of sales. The wife of one teamster got $2.50 weekly to copy reports. Sam. B. Kaufman of Lima, employed by the Buckeye Pipeline in the telegraph department, said he had sent messages of alleged independent companies to the Standard offices. New York. C. D. Chamblain, of the Globe Oil company, testified that he recently tried to sell oil to the Hocking Valley railroad but C. B. Duff, purchasing agent, at Columbus, said if he bought independent oil he would lose about $200,000 freight from the Standard company yearly.

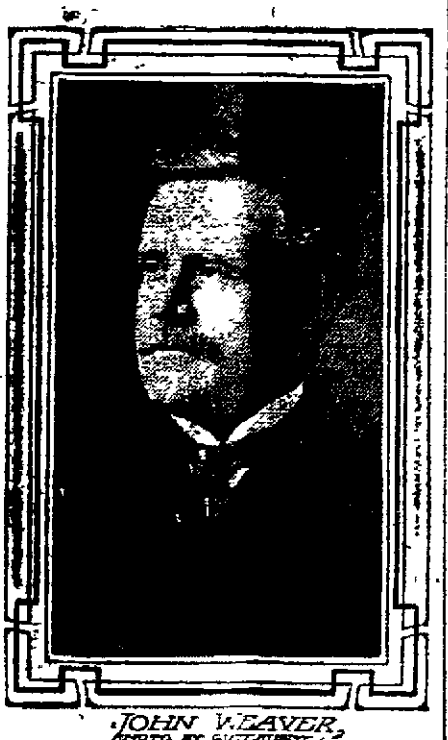

BRYAN DECLINES THE SULTAN'S DECORATIONS

Constantinople, May 26.—A token of friendly feeling for the sultan offered to confer decorations upon William F. Bryan and Mrs. Bryan, but both gratefully and gracefully declined the honor.

MAYOR WEAVER'S BOOM COLLAPSED

Philadelphia, May 26.—The Weaver gubernatorial boom was badly punctured at a conference of delegates to the Lincoln Party State convention held here this week.

After the conference it was declared that Mayor Weaver cannot expect to have twenty-five percent of the delegates from Philadelphia in favor of his nomination for governor in the Lincoln Party convention, which will be held in Musical Hall on Thursday next.

At a conference of city and county party clubs, there was a feeling of opposition to Mayor Weaver for Governor.

ALL EFFORTS ARE ABANDONED

BY CALIFORNIA CONGRESSMEN TO SECURE A KEED LIG-
ISLATION

To Have Building
to San Francisco
Tand

Washington, May 26.—California members of Congress have abandoned the effort to secure a federal building in San Francisco, and have pointed out the that great benefit would accrue to those who are anxious to rebuild particularly in San Francisco, but the will of the House leaders is against the proposition and it will not come up.

Efforts were made to get assurances from the Democratic leaders that they would not offer amendments opening up the entire question of tariff revision if such a measure as the one desired by some of the California representatives should be presented. The Democrats refused to commit themselves, so did the Republican tariff revisionists. For that reason the entire matter would have been dropped, but there were others ready to oppose the proposition on constitutional grounds. Such a resolution was passed for Portland, Me., after it had been destroyed by fire in 1868, and again for Chicago in 1871. A similar resolution was brought in Boston in 1872 and it passed the House, but in the Senate it was referred to the judiciary committee and this committee reported, by a vote of 5 to 3, that the proposition was unconstitutional, violating section 8, article I, which declares that "all duties, imposts and excises shall be uniform throughout the United States," and section 9, sub-division 6, which says that "no preference shall be given by any regulation of commerce or revenue to the ports of one state over those of another." The report on the subject was made by Senator Carpenter of Wisconsin. The motion to refer to the judiciary committee was made by Senator Therman of Ohio, after a favorable report on it had been brought in from the finance committee. The precedent was abandoned at that time, and Baltimore endeavored in vain to re-introduce it after the fire that destroyed that city.

And Murderers Were Hanged on Schedule Time in New Mexico
Yesterday.

Raton, N. M., May 26.—David Arguello and John Medlock, colored, murderers, were hanged in the jail yard here. Arguello, a Mexican, was a deputy sheriff near Raton last October when the officer was trying to arrest him for the murder of Mrs. Colita Dasech, 35 years of age, at Bowen, Colo. John Medlock shot and killed a colored woman at Gardner, N. M., several years ago. He fled to the Indian territory, where he at last was captured and sentenced to the federal prison at Leavenworth, Kas.

PASSES AGRICULTURAL BILL

Railway Rate Bill, After a Squabble in the House, Is Sent to Conference. Hepburn and Cooper Engage in a Verbal Battle—Proceedings of Congress.

Washington, May 26.—In the house of representatives a question of veracity was raised between Mr. Cooper of Wisconsin and Mr. Hepburn of Iowa over a conversation in which the latter is alleged to have participated with a senator and in which Mr. Cooper asserted Mr. Hepburn and the senator agreed that the so-called "express company amendment" to the railroad rate bill should not be retained. Both Mr. Hepburn and Mr. Cooper became angry and glared at each other fiercely. The house was turbulent during the consideration of the rule sending the rate bill to conference, many members fearing that the rule, which disagrees to the senate amendments on block might give the conferees an opportunity to vote out the express company, pipe lines and sleeping car amendments. With the assurance that the wishes of the house would be considered on all the amendments, the rule was adopted, 25 Republicans voting with the Democrats, taking the position that they would like to vote in favor of concurring in the senate amendments.

The senate passed agricultural appropriation bill, carrying $7,800,000 and without a word of debate or of an objection from any source added to it as an amendment, the bill providing for inspection of fresh meats intended for domestic consumption. The provision is along the general lines of the laws for the inspection of meats intended to be shipped abroad and the work is delegated to the bureau of animal industry. It requires that acceptable meats shall be labeled and authorizes the destruction of condemned products. It also authorizes inspection of all animals before they enter the packing houses and requires that those establishments shall be maintained in a sanitary condition, gives the inspectors access to all departments of them and forbids interstate commerce in fresh meats which are not marked by the inspection. The expense of the inspection is to be borne by the owners and a fine of $10,000 and imprisonment for two years are fixed as penalties for violations.

The senate today passed the bill authorizing the government of the Philippine island to change the weight and fineness of the silver in the Philippine peso to correspond with the rise in the price of silver. Other bills passed were: Opening for settlement 505,000 acres of land in Kiowa, Comanche and Apache reservations in Oklahoma; authorizing the construction of a bridge across the Tallahatchie river in Tallahatchie county, Miss.

GOVERNMENT CONTROL FAVORED BY SMITH WHO GIVES REASONS.

Washington, May 26.—Representative Smith of Michigan, in the House today attacked the "arbitrary and exorbitant telegraph rates," and urged that it is the "duty of the government under the constitution to establish a postal telegraph system in connection with the postoffice department." He said that rates could be then reduced one-half, leaving a sufficient amount to dispose of the deficit and extend the rural free delivery mail service to practically every home and pay carriers compensation fitting their services and expenses.

The only opposition to the plan, he said, would come from the telegraph companies, which, he declared, are honeycombed with rust and inefficiency, loaded with immense amounts of watered stock and hampered with stupid exhibitions and non-progressiveness.

Taxation of Mortgages.

San Francisco, May 26.—The people of California are to be given an opportunity to vote on the proposition of striking out of the constitution section 5 of article 13, which provides for the taxation of mortgages. This decision was reached at a meeting of the committee engaged in preparing a call for a special session of the legislature.

Starved to Death on Ice Cream.

Little Rock, Ark., May 26.—An investigation of health as to the death of A. S. Roberts, a former soldier, revealed that Roberts died of starvation on 19 cents' worth of ice cream, and starved to death.

Starvation could be the result of the ice cream, which was the only food he had, and the fact that he was starved to death.

AN OVATION GIVEN PRINCESS

Who Will Become the Queen
of Spain Next Week

THOUSANDS ACCLAIM HER

AS SHE ENTERED MADRID ON A
SPECIAL TRAIN SATURDAY

The Future Bride of the Monarch Was Greatly Affected by the Demonstration.

Madrid, May 26.—Fifty thousand people to Pardo villa today to acclaim Princess Ena, who will become the bride of King Alfonso next week. Special trains were run for the accommodation of the thousands of persons who wished to participate in the welcome to the future queen, and so great was the rush that there was difficulty in handling the crowds. In addition to the special trains, automobiles, coaches, carriages and vehicles of every description were called into service to carry the people to and from the palaces where the wedding will remain until after the wedding.

The welcome given to the princess today was, if anything, more vociferous than that accorded her yesterday on her arrival in Spain. Every appearance of the future queen before her subjects was greeted with tumultuous cheers and even when Ena and Alfonso were inside the palace the shouts were kept up.

Princess Ena was greatly affected by her reception yesterday. She received a surprising ovation, although it was well known that she would be given a hearty reception. The warmth of her greeting, however, was so manifestly sincere that the princess burst into tears.

King Alfonso was early at the Pardo palace this morning. The king did not leave his bride until a late hour last night, when he returned to the palace in the city, but he was back at the Pardo villa in time for breakfast this morning. During the course of the day the young king and Princess Ena appeared several times on a balcony in response to the cheers from the crowds of people outside, and they were cheered vehemently. The princess, smiling and radiant, replied to the shouts by waving her handkerchief and this was always a signal for fresh volleys of cheers.

The press shares with the populace the excellent opinion that has been formed of the princess, and the papers today contain eulogistic articles in which her praises are sung.

NO PUBLICITY

Of Campaign Contributions by Corporations and Trusts Will Be Allowed by This Congress.

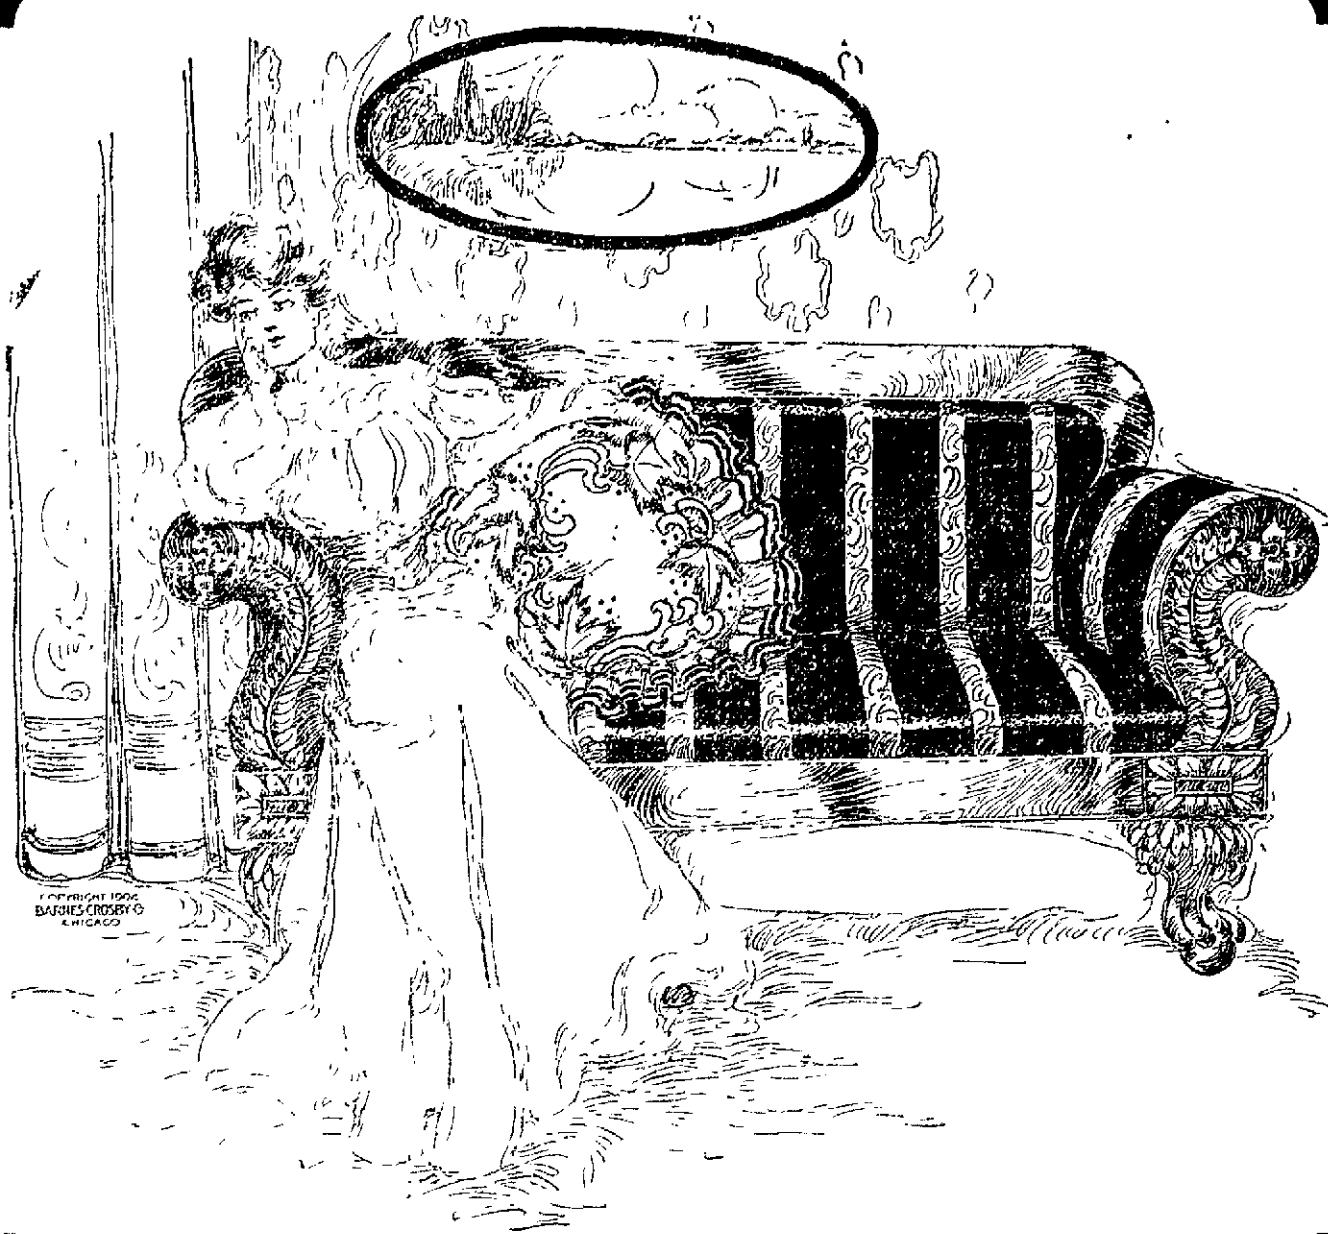

Washington, May 26.—Representative Rucker of Missouri, in the House this morning made a speech in support of his bill looking to the publicity of campaign contributions, and he charged the Republicans with insincerity in their treatment of the subject. "The country has become aroused to the humiliating fact," he said, "that in recent years, corporations, trusts, insurance companies and all interests enjoying special privileges, have contributed enormous sums to campaign committees, that have been used to degrade, corrupt and debauch the voter, and perhaps control the results of elections."

He complained of the action of the majority of the House committee on the election of president and vice president, which by vote against a report on his bill, "dissipated the last hope for favorable action on the subject of publicity at this session of Congress."

Cincinnati Man Re-elected.

Cincinnati, May 26.—The convention of the American Federation of Musicians held at Joseph N. Weber of Cincinnati, Ind., yesterday, without opposition, adopted a resolution unanimously adopted, and the enactment of the eight-hour day in government, state and municipal work, and the government and municipal work of all public utilities, and the abolition of child labor in mines, and the abolition of the sugar trust.

At the same time, the convention adopted a resolution to the effect that the building of the Cincinnati opera house, which was destroyed by fire, should be completed by July 1, 1906.

BEGGS OF NEWARK AND SEVERAL MORE

ARE IN THE SCRAMBLE FOR STATE DAIRY AND FOOD COMMISSIONER.

Col. Thompson Secures a Leave of Absence to Make Canvass for Secretary of State.

Columbus, May 25—Colonel Carmi A. Thompson, who is also speaker of the house and candidate for the Republican nomination for secretary of state secured a leave of absence from his regiment Wednesday evening, to August 1, the object being, of course, to put in the time canvassing for the nomination. The state maneuvers will be held early in August, and he wishes to be with his regiment then. Probably he believes he will be either nominated or defeated by that time.

There is a movement on now to induce State Insurance Commissioner A. L. Voys to become a candidate for that nomination but he has so far hardly declined. Colonel Thompson's strongest opponents are therefore General R. P. Kennedy, of Belletown, and A. G. Comings of Oberlin.

The result of the Montgomery county Republican primaries is regarded as putting C. H. Bosler, of Dayton, out of it. T. B. Kyle, of Miami county, and F. P. Riegel of Wood are also candidates. B. F. Wirt, of Youngstown, was figuring on the nomination a few months ago, but is believed to be out of it now.

There are now out as candidates for the nomination for state food commissioner besides Mr. Ankney and Mr. Dunlap, T. B. Kyle of Miami; F. J. Demuth, of Paulding; F. L. Beggs of Newark, and Brigham Young of Hardin, and an effort is being made to have Professor Beal, author of the Red law, come out as a candidate—unsuccessful, thus far.

Mr. Ankney has been endorsed for re-election by the State Dairymen's Association and the Cincinnati Retail Grocers' Association.

PERJURY CHARGE AGAINST TRACEY

IN RECENT HARRY FREINER MURDER TRIAL IS BEING HEARD.

Frank Helmke Sues P. S. Phillips—Real Estate Transfers and Court News.

The trial of the case of Ohio vs. William Tracey was resumed to the court and jury this morning. The defendant is charged with perjury, in that he swore falsely in the case of the State of Ohio vs. Harry Freiner, charged with murder. The case will be finished tomorrow. Fitzgibbon; Jones & Jones.

Frank Helmke has commenced suit in the Common Pleas court against Philip Spencer Phillips. Helmke says that on or about May 7, 1904, he entered into a contract with Phillips whereby he should enter on the farm of the defendant, known as the "old Harvey Homestead" containing 176 acres in Union township, as his tenant. In his petition Helmke claims that defendant was to furnish everything necessary to run the farm, including teams, wagons and farming implements, and that he would also furnish all live stock to be fed or used on the farm. Plaintiff says that it was agreed that he should do all the work of the farm, or pay for such labor as should be performed by other persons in the regular course of farming, but not in improvements on the farm; that the plaintiff was to get one-third of all the produce and stock when sold, and the defendant to get two-thirds; that all butter and eggs and cream produced should be divided equally, and that the plaintiff should have his house rent, truck patch and garden free; that it was also provided that for all work that the plaintiff should perform on the farm in the way of building fences or repairing buildings, or for all work outside of the regular course of farming he should receive from defendant $1.50 per day. Plaintiff says he worked 155 days at such work outside of the regular course of farming, and that the contract was terminated February 28, 1906. Plaintiff says that he received in cash from defendant $1137.28; that defendant has received from the proceeds of the farm sums of money which would make the share of the plaintiff in amount greatly in excess of the sum received, but that he does not know what the amount is and cannot ascertain the same. He says that defendant sold all the proceeds of the farm, retaining the money, except as above stated; that he kept all the books relating to the contract and the sales made. He says defendant charges him with a sum greatly in excess of the proper amount and that he refuses to account to plaintiff for his share in the proceeds of the farm or to pay him any money whatever. The plaintiff says there are 26 bushels of corn, 40 bushels of oats and other articles, the title of which is in dispute. He asks that defendant be required to account for all moneys received from the proceeds of the farm, and for all moneys received from the proceeds of the farm, and for all the defendant, and that the defendant be required to pay plaintiff such an amount as shall be found to be due him under the terms of the contract. Plaintiff also asks that pending the determination of this action that the defendant be restrained and enjoined from proceeding further against him in an action in replevin, and for all other relief to which he may be entitled. Kibler & Montgomery, attorneys for the plaintiff.

Decree of Divorce Granted.

The divorce case of Maude Elbon against John Elbon was heard in the Probate court Friday. The parties are middle-aged people who reside near Johnstown and have three children. The defendant filed an answer by his attorney, S. Leamon, but made no defense at the hearing Friday. After hearing the evidence the court granted the plaintiff a decree on the ground of habitual drunkenness and gave plaintiff alimony as asked for and the custody of the children.

Case is Ended.

In the case of Ohio vs. Mrs. Mary Rose of Buckeye Lake, indicted on a charge of slander, a nolle prosequi has been entered at the request of the prosecuting attorney, the defendant, Mrs. Rose, being ordered to pay the costs in the case taxed at $51.70. The costs were paid and the defendant was discharged.

Inquest of Lunacy.

An inquest of lunacy was held in the Probate court on Friday morning at 9 o'clock on Thomas Neel, an aged resident of Newark township. Mr. Neel is 90 years old and has been living for a number of years with his daughter and son-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Sparrowhawk. The attending physician was Dr. Leatherman, and insanity is probably due to paresis, accompanied with old age. He has various religious delusions and a homicidal tendency. He was adjudged insane and was taken over to Columbus on the 10:15 o'clock a. m. interurban car and turned over to the officials of the State Hospital. It was a very unusual and pitiful case.

AWFUL STORY OF DEPRAVITY

Grandfather and Uncle Arrested
for Terrible Crime

ARE NOW IN COUNTY JAIL

HAVING BEEN BOUND OVER TO GRAND
JURY BY THE MAYOR

The Young Girl Who Makes the
Charge Is Now in the Dayton
Rescue Home.

A story, remarkable for the gross immorality and degeneracy concerned in it, became public today, and the similarity to the now famous Terra-nova case which is on trial in the city of New York, is causing it to attract considerable attention. The matter came to light about a month ago, but owing to the fact that no definite action had been taken by the authorities it was not made public.

The parties concerned in the case are all residents of Central avenue, this city. The character about which the appalling incidents of the affair center, and who will be the prosecuting witness, is 14 years old Pearl Boyles, and the persons against whom the charge, serious in nature, is preferred, are none other than the child's grandfather, Jesse Kimble, aged 60 years, and her uncle, Albert Kimble, aged about 25 years.

The investigation of the case has been in progress for some time by plain clothes men at the instance of persons directly interested. On Friday night the necessary steps were taken and charges were preferred against the men by J. A. Kraver, one of the secret service men employed on the case. The parties were arraigned before Mayor McCleary in police court Saturday morning and pleaded "not guilty." They were taken under bond of $500 each and taken to the county jail. The hearing of the case, Albert Kimble, will take place Tuesday morning, while that of the grandfather was set for Thursday afternoon.

The child, Pearl Boyles, is an orphan, and is claimed to have lived with her uncle and grandfather since June of last year. A short time ago the Day Nursery authorities took charge of her and on Tuesday last she was sent to a rescue home in Dayton. It is understood that the girl in her statements to the authorities said that she had no other place to go and no manner of supporting herself. It was further learned that at one time she stated that on various occasions she had declared she would expose her relatives, but that she was threatened on these occasions and compelled to remain.

The two Kimble men charged with the crime have little or nothing to say, and when an Advocate reporter called at the county jail he was informed that at the request of the prisoners and their attorneys, Smythe & Smythe, no one would be permitted to see them, and especially no reporters "or other curious persons." The uncle of the girl, shortly after his arrest, of course denied the charge, stating that the girl was naturally immoral, and that he had used all of his influence to correct her. The grandfather has little to say. He is a rather well known character about the public square, being frequently employed to clean up about various bars and saloons on the square.

The details of the life of the parties since the girl has resided there, as can be learned at present are unfit for publication, and of such a nature as to arouse considerable feeling of indignation among those who are familiar to any degree with the circumstances.

STILL ALIVE.

Datto Ali, Reported Dead, Is Organizing an Insurrection.

Manila, May 26.—Datto Ali, the leading Mindanao insurgent, who was reported killed Oct. 22 last, is declared on good authority to be still alive. It is said he is with Dattos Enok and Mopak, organizing an insurrection between Davao and Dutan. They are said to be buying rifles and ammunition. The sultan of Ganassi confirms this report and declares that he has communicated with Datto Ali, who at the time he was reported killed, escaped, though desperately wounded. Ali was rolled into mosquito netting and bedding and taken away by some of his followers. A man resembling Ali was buried by Captain Mc Coy, who headed the column sent against him.

WOULD FORCE A CONFLICT

Peasant Representatives in Parliament Outline a Plan.

AGITATE AGRARIAN PROBLEM

Czar's Response to the Address in Reply to the Speech From the Throne In the Hands of the Premier—Question of Amnesty and Other Matters Discussed.

St. Petersburg, May 26.—The members of the peasant-workmen group of extremists in parliament, who now number 112, have decided that if parliament adopts a vote of lack of confidence in the ministry and the government declines to appoint a cabinet then from the majority they will resign to force a conflict. It is positively stated that the leader of the Constitutional Democrats are not holding any secret negotiations with the government and the prospect of their being able to immediately put through an agrarian measure is receding. M. Naboukoff, a leader of the Constitutional Democrats, estimates that a month must elapse before the final bill is prepared and the interim will be occupied in the discussion and passage of the personal liberty bill.

Premier Goremykin will read before the lower house of parliament the government's response to the address in reply to the speech from the throne and announce the government's policy. The purpose of Mr. Goremykin's trip to Peterhof was to read to Emperor Nicholas the final draft of the cabinet's declaration of policy, and was not connected in any wise with the rumored shift in the ministry, which, however, is possible at no distant day. The emperor, at the last moment, advised a few changes in the declaration. These caused a hurried meeting of the cabinet, at which alterations were drafted and inserted.

In delivering the declaration, Premier Goremykin, who is not especially gifted as a speaker, will adhere strictly to the formal text, printed copies of which will be distributed to the members of the house. The Conservative-Liberal newspaper, Strana (Country), which claims to have inside information, says that the declaration will take up and answer point by point the demands on the all-important agrarian question being a flat pronouncement on the inviolability of private property and a recommendation that the solution be sought in improving and intensifying methods of agriculture and the migration of the surplus population to the sparsely settled regions of Siberia and Central Asia.

The position of the government on the amnesty and agrarian propositions will not satisfy the general cry. A dispatch from Moscow says that denial of full amnesty probably will be followed by a general strike. Similar news has been received from other industrial centers.

The constitutional Democratic members of the house are caucusing on the agrarian question, which evidently is the most perplexing problem thus far encountered. A great diversity of opinion is manifested. Apparently it is realized that there will be great difficulty in formulating a law which, however it may be drafted, is bound to be subject to attack from the party of the right and left.

THREW CARBOLIC ACID IN GIRL'S EYES

Postoria, May 25.—William Hahn, 24, married, was arrested today charged with throwing carbolic acid into the face of pretty Emma Dondeinger, aged 19, last night. The girl's father swore out the warrant. During the absence of Mr. Hahn's wife recently, the girl was a domestic at his home.

Express Train Derailed.

Schenectady, N. Y., May 26.—Express train 34, New York Central railroad, was derailed at Hoffmann early this morning. Eight express and baggage cars jumped the rails blocking traffic in such a manner that all trains are now being sent over the detour. Six horses in one of the derailed cars were killed and one man, an express messenger, was injured.

The wreck was presumably the result of the fish plates being tampered with by striking Italian section hands who have been parading the tracks between Hoffman and Amsterdam.

NOTHING OFFICIAL YET.

London, May 26.—A Paris dispatch today says a telegram has been received from Peking which mentions reports that the emperor of China is ill. There is a rumor even that the emperor is dead.

NORWAY'S POET AND DRAMATIST, HENRIK IBSEN.

THE HOUSE WHERE IBSEN WAS BORN

Henrik Ibsen, 78 years old, Norway's greatest poet and dramatist, died at his home in Christiania on Wednesday afternoon. Although Ibsen's literary activity ceased some years ago when an apoplectic seizure forced him to refrain from mental effort he had continued to be a familiar figure in the life of Christiania and was frequently seen driving in the streets. His sudden removal therefore deeply impressed the capital. King Haakon, immediately upon receipt of the news of Ibsen's death, transmitted to the widow his own and Queen Maud's sympathy and condolences. Public bodies are formally recording the national grief at the loss of this foremost figure.

Witnesses Tell of Standard
Oil's Methods Showing
How Competition
Is Crushed.

Cleveland, May 26.—In the Interstate Commerce Commission's oil probing today, W. E. McEwan, of the Peerless Transit company, independent, former stenographer to the chief clerk of the Lake Shore railroad, testified that the Standard's Union Tank line cars are allowed mileage between terminals, while the independents' are charged passenger mileage.

From here to Chicago the Standard cars are allowed 357 miles, while the independents' are allowed 329, an advantage to the Standard of 42 cents a car. He said a daily report of the movements of the Standard's cars is made by the Lake Shore and sent to the Standard offices. Independent cars, without reports, are subject to long delays. He said clerks for the Lake Shore receive regular pay from the Standard monthly from New York. He said he protested to the Lake Shore and asked for the Peerless company the same mileage the Standard received. He said when he and his employers gave proof of discrimination, consideration was given the Peerless.

W. D. Brickell, former publisher of the Columbus Dispatch, was called to testify concerning the alleged subsidizing of Ohio papers by the Standard Oil company. Malcolm Jennings, conducting an advertising agency at Lancaster, Ohio, said he furnished reading matter about the Standard not marked as advertising matter. Z. R. Ellis, an independent operator, testified that the Standard bribed his teamsters and employers of other independents to give the Standard reports of sales. The wife of one teamster got $2.50 weekly to copy reports. Sam. B. Kaufman of Lima, employed by the Buckeye Pipeline in the telegraph department, said he had sent messages of alleged independent companies to the Standard offices, New York. C. D. Chamberlain, of the Globe Oil company, testified that he recently tried to sell oil to the Hocking Valley railroad but C. R. Duff, purchasing agent at Columbus, said if he bought independent oil he would lose about $200,000 freight from the Standard company yearly.

MAYOR WEAVER'S BOOM COLLAPSED

Philadelphia, May 26.—The Weaver gubernatorial boom was badly punctured at a conference of delegates to the Lincoln Party State convention held here this week.

After the conference it was declared that Mayor Weaver cannot expect to have twenty-five per cent of the delegates that great benefit would accrue to those who are anxious to rebuild particularly in San Francisco, but the will of the House leaders is against the proposition and it will not come up.

Efforts were made to get assurances from the Democratic leaders that they would not offer amendments opening up the entire question of tariff revision if such a measure as the one desired by some of the California representatives should be presented. The Democrats refused to commit themselves; so did the Republican tariff revisionists. For that reason the entire matter would have been dropped, but there were others ready to oppose the proposition on constitutional grounds. Such a resolution was passed for Portland, Me., after it had been destroyed by fire in 1866, and again for Chicago in 1871. A similar resolution was brought in for Boston in 1872 and it passed the House. But in the Senate it was referred to the judiciary committee and this committee reported, by a vote of 5 to 3, that the proposition was unconstitutional, violating section 8, article I, which declares that "all duties, imposts and excises shall be uniform throughout the United States," and section 9, subdivision 6, which says that "no preference shall be given by any regulation of commerce or revenue to the ports of one state over those of another." The report on the subject was made by Senator Carpenter of Wisconsin. The motion to refer the matter to the judiciary committee was made by Senator Senator Thurman of Ohio, after a favorable report on it had been brought in from the finance committee. The precedent was abandoned at that time, and Baltimore endeavored in vain to re-annex it after the fire that destroyed that city.

At a conference of the Lincoln party and city party City Club, there was a unanimous sentiment in opposition to the candidacy of Mayor Weaver for Governor.

PASSES AGRICULTURAL BILL

Railway Rate Bill, After a Squabble in the House, Is Sent to Conference. Hepburn and Cooper Engage in a Verbal Battle—Proceedings of Congress.

Washington, May 26.—In the house of representatives a question of veracity was raised between Mr. Cooper of Wisconsin and Mr. Hepburn of Iowa over a conversation in which the latter is alleged to have participated with a senator and in which Mr. Cooper asserted Mr. Hepburn and the senator agreed that the so-called "express company amendment" to the railroad rate bill should not be retained. Both Mr. Hepburn and Mr. Cooper became angry and glared at each other fiercely. The house was turbulent during the consideration of the rule sending the rate bill to conference, many members fearing that the rule, which disagrees to the senate amendments on block might give the conferees an opportunity to vote out the express company, pipe lines and sleeping car amendments. With the assurance that the wishes of the house would be considered on all the amendments, the rule was adopted, 25 Republicans voting with the Democrats, taking the position that they would like to vote in favor of concurring in the senate amendments.

The senate passed agricultural appropriation bill, carrying $7,800,000 and without a word of debate or an objection from any source added to it as an amendment, the bill providing for inspection of fresh meats intended for domestic consumption. The provision is along the general lines of the laws for the inspection of meats intended to be shipped abroad and the work is delegated to the bureau of animal industry. It requires that acceptable meats shall be labeled and authorizes the destruction of condemned products. It also authorizes inspection of all animals before they enter the packing houses and requires that those establishments shall be maintained in a sanitary condition, gives the inspectors access to all departments of them and forbids interstate commerce in fresh meats which are not marked by the inspection. The expense of the inspection is to be borne by the owners and a fine of $10,000 and imprisonment for two years are fixed as penalties for violations.

The senate today passed the bill authorizing the government of the Philippine island to change the weight and fineness of the silver in the Philippine peso to correspond with the rise in the price of silver. Other bills passed were: Opening for settlement 505,000 acres of land in Kiowa, Comanche and Apache reservations in Oklahoma; authorizing the construction of a bridge across the Tallahatchie river in Tallahatchie county, Miss.

GOVERNMENT CONTROL FAVORED BY SMITH WHO GIVES REASONS.

Washington, May 26.—Representative Smith of Michigan, in the hour today attacked the "arbitrary and exorbitant telegraph rates," and urged that it is the "duty of the government under the constitution to establish a postal telegraph system in connection with the postoffice department." He said that rates could be then reduced one-half, leaving a sufficient amount to dispose of the deficit and extend the rural free delivery mail service to practically every home and pay carriers compensation fitting their services and expenses.

The only opposition to the plan, he said, would come from the telegraph companies, which he declared, are honeycombed with rust and inefficiency, loaded with immense amounts of watered stock and hampered with stupid exhibitions and non-progressiveness.

Taxation of Mortgages.

San Francisco, May 26.—The people of California are to be given an opportunity to vote on the proposition of striking out of the constitution section 5 of article 13, which provides for the taxation of mortgages. This decision was reached at a meeting of the committee engaged in preparing a call for a special session of the legislature.

Starved to Death on Ice Cream.

Little Rock, Ark., May 26.—An investigation by Dr. W. H. Abbot of the Arkansas board of health as to the death of A. S. Roberts, a well-known actor, revealed that Roberts died of starvation after having eaten 19 cents' worth of ice cream and starved to death.

Several communities in the state are suffering from a shortage of food, and the government is expected to take action to relieve the situation.

AN OVATION GIVEN PRINCESS

Who Will Become the Queen
of Spain Next Week

THOUSANDS ACCLAIM HER

AS SHE ENTERED MADRID ON A
SPECIAL TRAIN SATURDAY

The Future Bride of the Monarch Was Greatly Affected by the Demonstration.

Madrid, May 26.—Fifty thousand people to Pardo villa today to acclaim Princess Ena, who will become the bride of King Alfonso next week. Special trains were run for the accommodation of the thousands of persons who wished to participate in the welcome to the future queen, and so great was the rush that there was difficulty in handling the crowds. In addition to the special trains, automobiles, coaches, carriages and vehicles of every description were called into service to carry the people to and from the palaces where the princess will remain until after the wedding.

The welcome given to the princess today was, if anything, more vociferous than that accorded her yesterday on her arrival in Spain. Every appearance of the future queen before her subjects was greeted with tumultuous cheers and even when Ena and Alfonso were inside the palace the shouts were kept up.

Princess Ena was greatly affected by her reception yesterday. She received a surprising ovation, although it was well known that she would be given a hearty welcome. The warmth of her greeting, however, was so manifestly sincere that the princess burst into tears.

King Alfonso was early at the Pardo palace this morning. The king did not leave his bride until a late hour last night, when he returned to the palace in the city, but he was back at the Pardo villa in time for breakfast this morning. During the course of the day the young king and Princess Ena appeared several times on a balcony in response to the cheers from the crowds of people outside, and they were cheered vehemently. The princess, smiling and radiant, replied to the shouts by waving her handkerchief and this was always a signal for fresh volleys of cheers.

The press shares with the populace the excellent opinion that has been formed of the princess, and the papers today contain eulogistic articles in which her praises are sung.

NO PUBLICITY

Of Campaign Contributions by Corporations and Trusts Will Be Allowed by This Congress.

Washington, May 26.—Representative Rucker of Missouri, in the House this morning made a speech in support of his bill looking to the publicity of campaign contributions, and he charged the Republicans with insincerity in their treatment of the subject. "The country has become aroused to the humiliating fact," he said, "that in recent years, corporations, trusts, insurance companies and all interests enjoying special privileges, have contributed enormous sums to campaign committees, that have been used to degrade, corrupt and debauch the voter, and perhaps control the results of elections."

He complained of the action of the majority of the House committee on the election of president and vice president, which by voting against a report on his bill, dissipated the last hope for favorable action on the subject of publicity at this session of Congress.

Circinnati Man Re-elected.

Boston, May 26.—The convention of the American Federation of Musicians re-elected Joseph N. Weber of Cincinnati, Ohio, president, without opposition. Resolutions were unanimously adopted looking to the enactment of the eight-hour day, the enactment of state and federal laws for the government and maintenance of all public athletes, and the prohibition of all labor on Sundays and public holidays.

At Worcester, Mass., a building of the Federal Reserve bank was destroyed by fire. Loss $750,000.

Bowser Wants Chicken Farm

He Figures Out There's Millions to Be Had In Raising Poultry.

WIFE SHATTERS IDEA

Shows Him He Cannot Make Money by Following Out Plan Outlined to Her—Starts Trouble.

(Copyright, 1906, by Eugene Parcells.)

Instead of sitting down to his paper and cigar after dinner, as is Mr. Bowser's usual programme, he paced up and down the sitting room with his hands behind his back and his forehead wrinkled with some mental puzzle. When he had wasted fifteen minutes at this Mrs. Bowser asked:

"Has anything gone wrong with your business affairs today?"

"No," he replied as he paused.

"Then what bothers you?"

"I want to talk to you about a matter, and if you can possibly do so I wish you'd talk straight and sensible. I mean by that that I don't want any sarcasm or giggling."

"Well, I'll try my best."

"Then I want to talk about a chicken farm. I know we canvassed the subject before, but I was not as well posted on the matter as I am now. I have been going into the matter very thoroughly for the past week."

SITTING ON THE VERANDA.

"I will help you all I can," said Mrs. Bowser as she took down pencil and pad and prepared to make notes.

"I am getting along in years, Mrs. Bowser, and the day is not far distant when the daily grind is going to be too much for me. By that time I want to be so situated that I can take things easy—sit on the veranda and boss and let other men do the work."

"I am in accord with your ideas. What are your plans?"

"Plans? Chicken Farm. To run a chicken farm, I tell you, Mrs. Bowser, there's a gold mine in it. I am amazed that Rockefeller don't drop Standard Oil and Armour let go of beef and private cars and go into chicken raising. I have figures to prove beyond a doubt that it discounts the South African diamond fields."

"Then you shall have my hearty cooperation. I'll work with you in every way to make a success of it."

"That's the talk!" exclaimed Mr. Bowser as he waved his arm around his head. "Now you are speaking like a true wife and helpmeet, and I'm proud of you. Now, we'll take it easily and quietly, and I'll show you some wonderful figures. I start in with 600 hens, divided between Early Rose and Maiden's Blush. Those are the best layers in the world; they'll go out and lay eggs in a snowdrift."

"I thought Early Rose was the name of a potato and that Maiden's Blush was the name of an apple," said Mrs. Bowser.

"Don't begin to carp and cavil at the very outset. I shall start out with 600 hens. This is exclusive of roosters. There are hens that lay every day in the week and others that only lay every other day. You can figure on at least 500 eggs every day in the year. That's about 1528 dozen. At 20 cents the dozen we have an income of about $34 per day. That, again, is $12,500 per year. Any objections to taking in that tidy little sum every year for the rest of your life, Mrs. Bowser?"

"Not the slightest. Go on."

"Figures Out a Profit."

"We have figured on the eggs only. Among a thousand hens there ought to be at least 600 that would set twice a year and bring forth twelve chicks at each sitting. That's over 7,000 chicks a year. Figure it at the lowest possible notch, and the income is $3,500. That's $16,000 a year altogether, and as you're nothing to do but rather and market the eggs and increase I'd like to know what more a reasonable being could ask for."

"Increase the number of chickens to 2,000 and you increase your income to $32,000. I think I shall stop at 2,000, as several hundred roosters crowing at once in the small hours of the morning might disturb some sick person. We'll also cut $2,000 a year off for accidents and place the income at $30,000."

"Where did you get your figures from, Mr. Bowser?" asked Mrs. Bowser as he sat rubbing his hands together and beaming at the cat.

"From a man right in the chicken business."

"And does he want to sell out?"

"Yes. His mother-in-law has come to live with him, and she hates chickens. She went out with a pail of boiling water the other morning and scalded thirty of them. He has either got to break her neck or give up the chickens, and as he is a man without much backbone he has decided to sell out. I'm to give him an answer tomorrow. He'll sell me the farm for $8,000 and the 600 chickens he has for $300. Then I go ahead and buy 400 more, and it's all clear sailing. That's the plan. What do you think of it?"

"You read your paper for a few minutes and let me do some figuring," she replied.

"But what figuring is there to do?"

"You will see. Of course there are always two sides to a plan."

"There can't be to this. It's the plainest proposition ever stated. However, go ahead and figure. You may make the income $5,000 higher than I do."

Mrs. Bowser worked away for ten minutes and then said:

"You will pay $8,000 for the farm, $300 for the chickens on hand and $200 for enough additional to make up your thousand. The new coops and runways will cost, say, $200, our removal, $100, and the taxes at least $75 per year. A horse and wagon will cost you $300, your help at least $600 and the feed for 1,000 hens cannot be less than $1,000. Our household expenses, with two men to board, cannot be less than $1,000. Here is an outgo of almost $12,000 for the first year, and you must figure interest on over $11,000 of it. We will add $550 for that."

"Heavens, but has the woman gone crazy?" gasped Mr. Bowser as he looked at the cat.

"Hens Would Not Lay."

"If you get 250 eggs per day the year through from 1,000 hens you will be in luck," she continued. "If we place the price at 20 cents a dozen, which is high, you will receive about $1,500. As for the sale of chickens, you can't figure on over 200. This number at an average of 80 cents each will give you $160. You will be sure to lose from fifty to a hundred of your hens per year and have to renew, but we'll say nothing about that. You have an outgo the first year of about $13,000 and an income of about $1,500. The second year you have?"

"I have nothing!" shouted Mr. Bowser, with his face the color of red paint. "Woman, I knew how it would be! By the living jingo, but why can't I keep from making a fool of myself?"

"The second year your income will be about a third of your expenses. You may, by sitting on the veranda and smoking Patugas and fanning yourself with a palm leaf, finally get it down to one-half, but you cannot expect to do better. In other words?"

"Stop! I will hear no more!"

"But you don't want to sit on the veranda and smoke and fan at a loss of three or four thousand dollars a year, do you?" she protested.

"Leaves Home in Anger."

"Never you mind what I want. I am now going out. You needn't sit up for me. If any one calls, tell them that I may not be home for a week. When I do come, I shall have facts and figures to shiver you up like an old cabbage."

Mr. Bowser put on his overcoat and hat and started out. He wanted evidence to convict Mrs. Bowser of false statistics, and he wanted sympathy, and he happened to remember that the family cobbler used to run a chicken ranch in the country. He went around to the shop, and after a few remarks about the weather he said:

"Jake, would you advise me to take a chicken farm?"

"Thas you thinking of it?" was asked.

"Very strongly."

"Den let me advise some things better. Take a jackass farm."

"What do you mean?"

"If you take a jackass farm you can be der biggest one among 'em."

Mr. Bowser couldn't take a man sixty-five years old by the neck and shake his whiskers loose, and so he went out. Just as he stepped outdoors a man asked:

"Can I ask you the way to the Rev. George Thompson's church, please?"

"You can, but I'll eat you in return!" shouted Mr. Bowser as Mont Pelée finally burst forth.

The questioner was a clergyman himself. He knew asphalt pavement, and he knew when to strike a gait. With one loud, long cry of "Police!" he started, and the three or four watchers of the race agreed that at the end of the first block he had gained ten feet on Mr. Bowser and would run him out of sight in three or four blocks more.

American Insurance Union.

Newark Chapter, No. 24, A. I. U., met in regular session Tuesday evening.

The gentlemen's degree staff has been invited to participate in the memorial services Decoration Day in full uniform. The invitation has been accepted, therefore let each member report for duty at 9.30 on Wednesday morning at the hall.

The committee appointed to make arrangements for an outing in the near future will report at the next meeting.

Suitable resolutions of respect were adopted on the death of Sister Belle Mullinix. It will be noted that just seven days from the day of burial of Sister Mullinix her husband, Randolph Mullinix, received the funeral benefit of $112, and four weeks sick benefits.

With a true spirit of fraternalism to all orders it will also be noted that since August 4, 1904, to January 1, 1906, just 17 months, $1924.97 were paid to Newark members of the A. I. U. for funeral benefits, sickness and accidents or $113.23 each month. This amount was paid to 97 members with an average of $19.84 to each person.

Of the $63,638.39 paid by the order on the life department the average time for payment after proof of death was received, was just eleven days, notwithstanding that 60 days was the limited time stated in the policies.

Royal Arcanum.

The regular meeting of Bayard Taylor Council, No. 221, Royal Arcanum, will be held on Monday evening. A good attendance of the members is desired.

Yeomen.

Newark Homestead 1369, entertained its members and friends with a social session on Wednesday night, May 16. After the business session, the lodge room was thrown open and a short program of music followed by ice cream and cake was enjoyed by a large number of members and their friends. Four applications were read and voted on, the candidates being elected for adoption. Other applications are coming in until it looks as though Newark Homestead would double its membership by July 1.

A large class of candidates will be adopted into Yeomanry on next Wednesday night, May 30, and a full attendance of officers and members is desired for that night.

A trolley ride and strawberry social have been talked of. Come out to the next meeting and voice your opinion on these proposed events. All candidates must appear not later than 8.30 o'clock for adoption. Wednesday evening, May 30.

Camels.

Monarch Lodge No. 66 held a very interesting session on last Tuesday evening and conferred the second degree on Brother A. P. Fairley. The work being done by the degree team. After the work Brother J. V. Hilliard gave the lodge in a few well directed remarks good advice and suggestions for the permanent welfare of the Camels, and also spoke entertainingly of the great fraternal bonds which unite lodges everywhere. Bro. Hilliard is a loyal Camel and is always welcome to all their meetings.

The dues committee held a meeting after lodge adjourned and planned quite extensively for the coming event, the Society Circus, July 23-25 on the old cemetery grounds. They decided to give away during circus week a pony and cart as first prize, and a ticket to Atlantic City and $50 expense money as second prize. These prizes will be given those holding the lucky number after the last performance has concluded. The pony was purchased from Ellis Jones, east of the city, and the handsome rubber-tired unabout has been ordered and the outfit will appear on the streets of Newark about the middle of July.

The Camels were so successful in their carnival last summer and so many Newark people were wanting a repetition of the big show that they have succeeded in getting the Society Circus for all week, beginning Monday, July 23. This is a refined, pleasing, up to date circus and shows under one tent. The company carries a large number of trained athletes, high-wire artists, professional acrobats and clowns, besides one of the best troupes of performing dogs in America today. They show in Springfield all next week and a number of Newark Camels expect to go over to that city to witness their opening under the auspices of the Uniform Rank, Company 44, Knights of Pythias, of that city.

Work in the third degree on next Tuesday night. All Camels are urged to be present.

Odd Fellows.

At the meeting of Licking Lodge, Daughters of Rebekah, held Thursday night eight candidates for membership were initiated into the lodge.

Pathfinders.

Pathfinder Lodge No. 79, held an enjoyable meeting Wednesday evening, having a good attendance. Mrs. R. W. Scheffer was the lucky one in the drawing contest. After the meeting, light refreshments were served.

Masonic.

A special convocation of Acme Lodge No. 554, F. & A. M., will be held on Thursday night, when there will be work in the Master Mason's degree. On Thursday night, June 7, there will be a communication for work in the Master's degree, after which the work will be inspected by District Lecturer A. L. Rawlings.

On next Tuesday night a stated convocation of St. Luke's Commandery No. 34, Knights Templar will be held, on which occasion the Orders of the Temple and Malta will be conferred.

Wednesday of this week was a red letter event in the annals of Cambridge and Guernsey county Masonry, the event being the dedication of the new $22,000 Masonic Temple, that structure which had its inception in the tribute of love left by a deceased member of Cambridge lodge, No. 66, Brother John Meyers, who bequeathed his little earthly savings to his beloved lodge. This coupled with the unrelenting zeal of other fraters, resulted in the magnificent edifice which today was dedicated and consecrated to the craft by the grand master of Ohio. There were but two grand officers present, business engagements precluding the attendance of others. Grand Master Lewis P. Schaaf, of Newark and Grand Marshal Harry S. Kissell of Springfield. Hon. E. G. Chamberlin of Caldwell, district lecturer of the 14th Masonic jurisdiction, acted as deputy grand master pro tem; J. E. Campbell of Malta lodge, Norwich, as senior grand warden; F. L. Schick of Cambridge as junior grand warden. Rev. Dr. N. C. Hayes of this city, as grand chaplain. Louis Miller as grand treasurer, and Chas. Turnbaugh as grand orator, with W. S. Campbell as grand tiler.

District Lecturer A. C. Rawlings of Newark was present at the regular convention of Bloomfield lodge No. 422, F. & A. M., last Friday evening to inspect the work and condition of the lodge. There was a good attendance and the degree of M. M. was conferred upon A. C. Stinson in a creditable manner. The session was a most interesting and profitable one and was followed by an elegant repast and good social time in the banquet room.—Centerburg Gazette.

Modern Woodmen.

Cedar Camp 4737 met in regular session on Wednesday night with 66 members present. Nine applications for membership were received and acted upon and one candidate was shown through the forest. The Memorial Committee reported that all members were requested to be at the hall on Sunday afternoon June 3, at 1.30 p. m. to turn out for the memorial services which would be held on that day at Cedar Hill cemetery and that the neighbors would leave the hall at 2 p. m. sharp, and there would not be any march back from the cemetery as had been the custom in former years. On next Wednesday night, May 30, all neighbors are requested to be present as there has been a committee appointed to have ice cream, cake and fruit and a good turn out of the neighbors is expected and there will be several candidates to be given the work.

SWEET PEA CARNIVAL.

Dainty Affairs to Be Held at Bozeman, Mont.

Bozeman, Mont., noted for the profession of sweet peas, which clamber over its lattices and hedges in the summer, has decided to hold a sweet pea carnival or festival, and Aug. 11 has been chosen for the opening day, says a Bozeman correspondent of the Minneapolis Journal.

Merchants will festoon their windows, porches of homes will be draped with them, and wherever in the city there is room for a blossom it will greet the eye of the visitor or native.

Plans for the carnival were formulated by the sugar beet committee, and will be carried out by the Civic league. The affair will be as dainty and exquisite as possible and the tumult usually a feature of street fairs will be eliminated.

There will be music and a floral parade, with a carnival queen to typify the spirit of the occasion, and in the evening the maskers will hold high jinks.

CURE FOR DRUNKENNESS.

Urine Treatment is to be Used at Home Without Publicity, or Loss of Time from Business.

Thousands of persons who really want to quit the use of whiskey or beer, realize that they cannot do so without medical help, yet they can not afford the time or perhaps the money to go to a sanitarium. Happily a new cure for drunkenness has been discovered which is to be taken at home and costs less than the average drinker will spend in a day.

In using Urine there is absolutely no publicity, as the remedy is sold by the leading druggist in nearly every city and town, or it can be sent by mail. Sure relief is positive when Urine is used. So uniformly successful is this treatment that in every box is a registered guarantee which entitles you to a refund of your money if Urine fails to effect a cure.

Urine is in two forms, No. 1, a secret remedy, absolutely tasteless and odorless, which can be given in food or drink without the patient's knowledge. No. 2 in pill form for those who wish to be cured. The price either form is $1 a box. Send to the Urine Co., Washington, D. C., for free booklet and consultation blank.

The desire for liquor is soon destroyed after Urine treatment is commenced, and before long the patient is freed from the terrible drink craving, and the drink will not be missed.

Urine is for sale by Frank D. Hall, 10 North Side Square.

Smaller East Eggs Wanted in Egypt.

There is a dearth of egg cups at Alexandria commensurate with the diminutive proportions of the Egyptian hen's egg, so says the latest consular report from there. In the ordinary British egg cup the Egyptian breakfast egg looks lonely and unsupported, and it is a matter of considerable skill to effect the necessary decapitation while it is in this woefully wabby condition, says the London Mail; hence there is a cry from Egypt for egg cups meet for the national egg.

Kidney Trouble

Cured by Cooper's New Discovery

Which Restores These Important Organs of the Body to Their Normal Condition. Regulating the Urine and Strengthening the Back.

This Letter Tells You How to Be Cured.

The Cooper Medicine Company.

Gentlemen: For years I have been a great sufferer from Kidney and Urinary Trouble. I had a severe pain in the lower part of my back and my urine was cloudy and contained a sediment. I had only used one bottle of Cooper's New Discovery when the pain had entirely disappeared and my urine became perfectly natural with no sediment. My kidneys are in fine condition and my general health is greatly improved. Cooper's New Discovery is a remarkable medicine and I can heartily recommend it to everyone suffering from Kidney and Urinary Trouble.

Signed JACOB WEBER

Sackett Plaster Board

I desire to call the attention of all architects, contractors and builders to the Sackett Plaster Board. It takes the place of wood or metal lath. It is not a new thing, but has been in use for fifteen years in some of the largest cities.

One of the great advantages of the board is that it is a non-conductor of sound, as well as being fire proof. It makes houses warmer in winter and cooler in summer. I have the agency for this board and am prepared to furnish it in small amounts or carload lots. For full particulars call on or address,

He sent an operator to the stricken city from Portland, Ore., the day of the quake and secured the only authentic moving pictures of the stricken city, showing all of the ruins and wreckage, including the blowing up of many of the big buildings on Market street.

This exhibition was given to 4000 people in the big auditorium at Canton two weeks ago, and the News of that city said it made "the biggest kind of a hit."

Another big feature of the Shields company is Sadie Sherman, phenomenal harpist and pianist. The management promises a two hours' performance of refinement and mirth. The Shields aggregation has been playing throughout Ohio in the big theaters under the auspices of different fire departments and have been highly complimented everywhere by the press. The innovation of an open air theater in the heart of the city will be a novelty in Newark and should attract immense crowds.

THE OLD FACTORY-DAMAGED BY FIRE TO BE REPAIRED

And Business Will be Resumed With a Big Force in Near Future.

Swisher Brothers' cigar manufacturers of this city, who were forced to suspend business on account of the disastrous fire that destroyed their building on West Main street on February 9, 1900, have decided to re-engage in the manufacture of cigars.

They have moved their office from the Burt building, rear of the Dickinson lot on West Main street back to their own building, which they are now fitting up preparatory to re-engaging in the business.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Of Candidates To Be Voted For at the Coming Democratic Primary Election.

The following gentlemen, whose names appear in this column under this heading, announce themselves as candidates for the offices designated respectively, subject to the decision of the Democracy of Licking county at the coming primary election:

For Congress,
WILLIAM A. ASHEROOK.
J. B. JONES.

For Sheriff,
W. F. HOLTON.
WM. LINKE.

County Clerk
J. W. HURSEY (second term).

County Commissioner.
GEO. T. TAVENNER, (of Eden Tp.)
PERRY E. TYGARD (of Union Tp.)

Infirmary Director.
B. D. JACKSON (second term).

The process of gagging all discussion of the Senate amendments to the railroad rate bill went through the House rough-shod Friday. The bill goes to a conference committee according to the program of the enemies of the measure. An effort was made by the Democrats of the House and a few Republicans to take a vote on the Senate amendments before sending the bill to conference. But gag rule prevented this being done, and now the bill stands a chance of being so emasculated by the railroad lawyers who will control the conference committee that it will be a dead letter on the statute books when passed.

Attention to Foraker's alleged devotion to principle in stubbornly voting against the rate bill is being called by a number of papers which ought, to know better than to boost his game. Dying in the last ditch is a trick worthy of the man who, since he became United States senator, has forgotten risk. Foraker's public record is too bad to go anywhere among men who take more than a superficial view of public affairs. His bravado in the final vote last week was characteristic.

A former Huron county commissioner has been on trial at Norwalk for alleged soliciting a bribe. The principal witness against the defendant testified that he was engaged in the bridge business at the time the defendant was a county commissioner, and that at one time the defendant said he thought he ought to have enough out of a contract to grease his buggy. In those days it may have been grease in Huron county, but these days it's graft.

JUDGE DONAHUE.

(Coshocation Review)

The convention to nominate a Democratic candidate for circuit court judge, in this the 5th judicial circuit, will be held at Newark, June 19, at which time and place Judge Maurice H. Donahue, who is a candidate for second term, will be unanimously renominated. Judge Donahue has made a record on the bench during his first term, which insures his re-election at the polls in November, by a large majority.

HANDSOME CHARM WAS PRESENTED

TO MR. C. E. BARBER, WHO HAS TENDERED HIS RESIGNATION HERE

As Night Train Dispatcher for the C. & N. He Will go to Canton.

Mr. C. E. Barber who for the past several years has been the efficient night dispatcher for the C. & N. & N., the C. & Z., and the Newark and Granville interurban roads, this city, has tendered his resignation to accept the responsible position of trainmaster of the Canton & Akron interurban railway, under General Manager J. R. Harrigan, with headquarters at Canton. Mr. Barber during his stay in Newark, has made hosts of friends, and was extremely popular with all the employees of the various lines, especially those connected with the transportation department, with whom he was always thrown in close contact by reason of the duties of his office. The employees of the transportation department, together with Chief Clerk G. S. Shinnick, to the General Manager, in order to show their appreciation of his universal comeliness, Friday night, through Mr. Charles Heed, a popular C. & N. conductor, presented him with a handsome gold watch chain and Masonic charm. Mr. Barber was taken completely by surprise and for a moment or so was unable to catch on. He finally rallied, however, and in a few appropriate remarks thanked the donors for the beautiful token of their good will. Mr. Barber will leave Newark with the best wishes of hosts of friends for success in his new position.

Made Happy For Life.

Great happiness came into the home of S. C. Blair, school superintendent, at St. Albans, W. Va., when his little daughter was restored from the dreadful complaint he names. He says: "My little daughter had St. Vitus' Dance, which yielded to no treatment but grew steadily worse until as a last resort we tried Electric Bitters; and I rejoice to say, three bottles effected a complete cure." Quick, sure cure for nervous complaints, general debility, female weaknesses, impoverished blood and malaria. Guaranteed by F. D. Hall, druggist Price 50c.

TOWN BEAUTIFYING.

METHOD OF ORGANIZING AN IMPROVEMENT SOCIETY.

Most Important Committee Should Be That on Sanitation—How Both Men and Women Can Help—The Dues Should Be Small.

The organization of a village improvement society is simple. A president, secretary and treasurer are the necessary officers, and the committees which are appointed may be as many or as few as are required, says the Berlin (Md.) Herald. The dues should be small, possibly $2 a year, paid in quarterly sums, and in some places a promise of two days' work a year also is added, one day being given to home improvements and the other to those of a public character.

The most important committee, because the one whose work is fundamental, is that on sanitation. The members are to investigate the town's water supply, the public sewers and drains and the back premises of houses. The refuse too often thrown in rubbish heaps is to be carted away and destroyed, a place is to be provided for ash piles and one where garbage may be carried by a public official and burned. These unsightly spots should be far from the center of the town, and a thick hedge may screen such places from the highway. In all public places, such as the railroad station, the village corners, the park and the schoolhouse yards, there should be neat rubbish boxes placed.

The street committee should have a public spirited citizen at its head, since the work to be done may be radical and provoking of criticism. The village roads may have to be leveled, drained and covered with pounded stone or gravel at no light expense, and the ditches on either side have also to be smoothed, planted with grass and curbed. The money for all this may be raised by a small town tax.

On the committee for tree planting men and women work well together, the one to find out what sort of trees will grow in the climate of the place and procure them, the other to arrange how and where they should be placed. Of course at least a double row should go along each roadway, but it is far better if four rows can be placed instead of two, shading both the sidewalk and the street. In the long run it will be found that the added cost is well spent. The trees should be of one variety.

One of the committees which may be left wholly to women is that on lawns, flowers, window boxes and vines. The work is, of course, to see that lawns are well sodded, that vines are brought and set out over verandas, on wooden screens around the back yards, over schoolhouses and churches and also over an ugly town building which is an eyesore to the place. They may also send for flower seeds and give them out to the school children and arrange for an annual flower show, with prizes for these and for handsome window boxes as well. Schoolteachers can do much on this committee by urging the children to compete and assisting them with readings and talks on flower raising.

It is seldom that fences are necessary in a village, and the appearance of the place is wonderfully improved by their removal.

The committee on the railroad station has usually considerable work to do, for too often the station buildings are hideous, unpainted or with peeling paint, and that of the ugliest brown color, with an unshaded platform littered with boxes and rubbish, and waiting rooms which suggest the Augean stables. The best thing to do with such a place is to get rid of it if possible. Sometimes a railroad will yield to gentle but prolonged pressure and erect a new station. The artistic stations of the Boston and Albany, built by the great architect Richardson, began with the Village Improvement society of Abundula.

If, however, as must often be the case, the old station must do, at least some things can be done. The approaches may be improved; a new roadway may be cut and sodded, borders added; the old roadway may be closed, covered with earth and sodded also, and shrubs and flower beds laid out. The ugly whitewashed stones may give way to tall evergreen trees, which serve quite as well for guides to the way. The station building may be thoroughly cleaned in every part and painted; new benches may be provided; the store may be polished, the walls calcimined. The litter on the platform may be put where it belongs—in the freight house. The unsightly buildings, above all, may be hidden under a Japanese ivy or a Virginia creeper till the time when a low, dark red brick or graystone station shall take their place with a covered platform and every convenience for comfort.

In all these things one committee has a large work to do, that of the young people on entertainments. The money may be raised largely by them by sales, lectures, musicales and dramatics. These constantly recurring affairs keep social life astir and also keep before the minds of the people the work of the society.

A Plan For Window Gardens.
At this time of the year, when the thought of flower seeds comes naturally into the mind, Lord Meath's suggestion that the bare streets in the town might be brightened and rendered more attractive by an extension of window gardening is very timely, says Country Life. Outdoor window gardening is not only a pleasant art, in so far as it affords delight to those who engage in it, but it is the cause of delight to all who pass by.

The meeting begins promptly at 7 o'clock and is open to all. Everyone is invited.

BAD RUNAWAY MR. KENNEDY HURT

HIS RIGHT HAND AND WRIST WERE BADLY SPRAINED

Automobile Frightened Horse and a Serious Accident Was Narrowly Averted.

An exciting runaway which came near resulting seriously for Mr. F. P. Kennedy president of the Newark Trust company, occurred at 5 Friday afternoon and as it was, resulted in the spraining of Mr. Kennedy's right hand and wrist, beside several bad bruises, and two bad cuts on the animal which he was driving at the time.

The horse is a young animal which had been only recently purchased by Mr. Kennedy and is quite spirited. While seated in the buggy outside of his residence waiting for his wife and child, an automobile passed. This frightened the animal and it gave a jump to one side, which broke one of the quarter straps and when Mr. Kennedy attempted to stop the horse the carriage was pulled upon its heels. The horse began running and turned west on Granville street and shortly after turning the corner Mr. Kennedy pulled sharply on one of the reins throwing the horse, but before he could get out of the carriage the frightened animal had regained its feet and began running. At this point Mr. Kennedy jumped the peril in his position and realized the need of some manner over the front wheel of the buggy striking the pavement with great force so that he slid for some distance. The horse continued running and went on to Pearl street, turning toward the direction of the Woodside school building where it was caught by Arthur (Dole) Smith. The horse was taken to Dr. Williams, the veterinary surgeon, who attended to its injuries.

Taking No Chances.
During a recent discussion on juvenile crime Charles Richmond Henderson, professor of sociology at the University of Chicago and an eminent authority on criminology, told a story of a youngster who was asked if he knew the meaning of "regeneration." "Yes," responded the lad, "it means to be born again."

"And would you like to be born again?" he was asked.
"No, sir," exclaimed the boy. "I'm too much afraid of being born a girl!"—Lippincott's Magazine.

CLIFF ABODES FOR MANITOU

Famed Relics to Be Set Up in a Colorado Canyon.

Cliff dwellings in Manitou. Eastern capitalists from Ohio as well as certain Colorado Springs people are interested in the scheme to the extent of $50,000, says a Manitou (Colo.) correspondent of the Colorado Springs Telegraph. The money is already in sight, and all that now holds the deal is the bringing of the relics to Manitou and the securing of an option on the canyon.

The canyon in which the exhibit will be placed is situated back of the Hlawa gardens. It is owned by James Jones and is one of the most picturesque spots in the vicinity of Manitou. The plan of the promoters is to secure cliff dwellings from southwestern Utah, near the state line, and bring them to Manitou and rebuild them in the canyon which they are prepared to buy. These relics will not be imitations. They will not be reproductions, but the rude and prehistoric buildings themselves. The towers, block houses, pottery relics, ladders, places of worship and everything that remains of a cliff dwellers' village will be brought to Manitou. They will be transported on freight cars stone by stone. Each stone will be numbered, and a corresponding diagram will be kept which will enable the builders to erect the structures just as they now stand in the Utah canyon. They will not be restored. It is the idea of the promoters to have ruins, actual ruins, in Manitou.

These cliff dwellings are outside of the Indian reservation on private property and are not under the control of the United States government. For this reason no difficulty will be experienced in securing the ruins.

The canyon in which the ruins are to be placed bears a close resemblance to the one in Utah in which the ruins are located. The rock is of the same kind, the walls and colorings are almost identical and the entire canyon is perfectly adapted for the purpose.

STEAD'S NOVEL IDEA.

Would Have British Spend $300,000 a Year Amusing Foreigners.

William T. Stead, editor of the British Review of Reviews, informs the London correspondent of the Chicago News that he has secured pledges from Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman and other government leaders that they will recommend to parliament the establishment of a "national hospitality fund" for the purpose of welcoming and amusing foreign arrivals and sending them home with an enthusiastic opinion of British ways.

Mr. Stead proposes that England shall devote to the entertainment fund annually 1 per cent of the total outlays for the naval and military armaments, averaging about $300,000 ($300,000). The promoters think that when England has taken the lead in hospitality such a thing as a "stranger in a strange land" will be unknown. Mr. Stead says:

"England made a great hubbub a year ago when the French fleet visited Portsmouth to place the seal on the entente cordiale, but nobody knows that the mayor of Portsmouth had to dig into his own pocket for £4,000 ($20,000) to defray the expenses. Admiral Togo's veterans were hailed as the nation's guests a short time ago, but the bill was footed by a few Japanese trading firms in the city. Shortly the burgomasters of Germany will be the guests of the municipality, and now the hat is being passed among the despised German merchants of England to provide a 'characteristic British welcome.'"

Mr. Stead adds that one of the cardinal features of the idea is to give to the arriving foreigners in humble circumstances a welcome and assistance along the lines of the broad democracy of the present regime in England.

TO TRAIN WRITERS.

Hamden-Sydney College to Have a Special Department.

At a special meeting recently held in Richmond, Va., the trustees of Hamden-Sydney college accepted a proposition made by James T. McAllister of Hot Springs, Va., to guarantee $3,500 a year toward the expenses of a special department for training writers for newspapers and magazines and of books, says a Richmond dispatch.

The new department will be put in operation at the opening of the next session in the fall.

Mr. McAllister says the suggestion came to him from Walter H. Page of New York, who will be asked to be one of the managing committee.

The professor to fill the chair has been selected and is said to be a man known in literary and educational circles throughout the United States.

Glass Door Knobs as Wedding Gifts.
No greater oddities in wedding presents than glass door knobs have been thought of in many a day. They are the pleasing things nowadays, provided, of course, too many are not sent to the bride, says the New York Press. They must be of the finest cut glass, and the more graceful the line and the finer the glass the better. Equipped with a dozen of these the young wife has a delightful task of replacing the commonplace door knobs of her new home with something attractive. Already several May brides have received door knobs as presents, and they have expressed keen delight over the gifts. But, simple as they may seem, they are not cheap. If you are in doubt just make inquiries at some fashionable jewelry establishment.

AN APPEAL TO WOMEN

Professor Alexander Haig, M.D., Physician to The Royal Hospital for Women and Children, of London, one of the world's greatest authorities, has proven that most diseases, especially diseases of women, Menorrhagia and Dysmenorrhoea (painful and irregular menstruation) are plainly caused by uric acid.

For the benefit of all ailing, weakly women, we urge his explanation of common sense.

HOW URIC ACID CAUSES WOMEN'S DISEASES

Many women overwork themselves, are nervous and worry, and many others do not take proper care of themselves during the menstrual period.

From these causes comes disease. The uric acid always present in the blood is deposited in little sharp grains like sand and lodge throughout the body.

Imagine the pain and irritation they cause in the delicate female organs. This is the cause of women's weaknesses.

To all women we appeal with the proof of their greatest specialists. We urge the remedy of common sense.

THE APPROACH OF URIC ACID DISEASES

Painful, profuse, suppressed or scanty menstruation, backache, bearing down feeling, nervousness, lassitude (tired feeling), sleeplessness, poor appetite, headache, constipation—all show uric acid at work.

If you have any of the above symptoms, act at once. Take LIFE PLANT before serious womb or ovarian trouble comes. If you are suffering from disease, cure yourself in a common sense way—drive out the cause of disease—uric acid.

COL. ROSEBROUGH'S MEMORIAL SPEECH

Delivered at the Texas Schools Friday Was a Masterpiece of Patriotic Eloquence.

One of the interesting features in connection with the services held in all the school buildings of the city on Friday, was the address in the Texas building by Col. Cliff Rosebrough, a Spanish American war veteran, being the first address ever delivered in the Newark public schools by a veteran of that war. The address was as follows:

Teachers and pupils of the Texas district of Newark, Ohio, union schools of the United States of America—My assignment, this morning as one of the soldiers to address you upon this memorial occasion, I consider one of the most pleasant duties that could have been assigned me. I wish to especially call your attention to the words, "union schools" and "United States." The soldiers of the Civil war, in whose honor these exercises are held, made the use of those two words possible today. At the outbreak of the rebellion there was a disruption of the union and a division of the states. Had not that struggle terminated as it did there would have been divided states instead of united states, and consequently no union schools. Let us ever thank the brave old boys in blue for preserving the union and the union schools.

During the years of 1861 and 1865 the most terrible war in the history of the world was fought. For it was brother against brother and father against son. I speak of the Civil war in America. The brave soldiers fighting under the "Bonnie Blue Flag" thought to tear down "Old Glory." The soldiers of the South rushed at their foes in the North and died and were buried on Northern ground. Under the glorious stars and stripes the brave Northern soldiers fought over the many states of the South, and left their dead there. For over 40 years there was a strong feeling of hatred for each other that during this time the children of the bravest soldiers forgot the hatred of their fathers for each other, and in 1898 when our battleship Maine was on a visit in Havana harbor, Cuba, by the use of a submarine mine you know the entire nation was set on fire. North and South alike saw "Old Glory" in danger and when the president asked for volunteers, men who had fought on opposite sides in '61, were side by side in '98, and victory was ours. In 1878 the first general observance of Decoration Day in this city was held on May 30. Many of the states observed different days, but at the suggestion of General Logan May the 30th of each year has been set apart as the legal day. In Ohio at the Confederate cemetery at Camp Chase, near Columbus, occurred the first decoration of the Confederate dead in the North by Union soldiers, and on May 30th of this year there will be no difference in the work in the North or South, all joining together with the Blue and the Gray to pay loving tribute to the memory of the world's greatest heroes. These memorial exercises held year after year in the schools are a fitting lesson in patriotism. All children should love "Old Glory," and the heroes who protected it in the trying times of war. I wish to thank you for your attention and will ever remember my first memorial school address, and the schools of Texas.

I know you are all waiting to hear from our grand old friend, and again thanking you, I will give away to Newark's best known and best loved soldier, Captain David J. Jones.

OPERATING MINE AT PLUM RUN

BRIDGE MEN INDICTED AT LIMA. MYSTERY IN DEATH AT COLUMBUS.

Monnett May Be Recalled to Testify Before Crawford County Grand Jury—Ohio News.

Steubenville, O., May 26.—All was quiet at the Plum Run mines of the United Coal company and the first car of coal since the strike has been mined. There are about 75 experienced miners at work. Twelve guards and 14 non-union miners quit work and were furnished transportation by the company. Sheriff Forbes said that he will go to the mines henceforth only upon the call of the superintendent in case of trouble. About 80 strike-breakers arrived from the west. Cleveland newspaper correspondents were served with a subpoena notice for sending out sensational reports of the situation and the company forbade them to go on its property. There is much indignation among the miners over stories which they assert are inaccurate.

Bridge Men Indicted.
Lima, O., May 26.—The Allen county grand jury, which has been in session a month, has returned 31 indictments. Of these only 11 were made public, all being for minor offenses. In the bridge trust investigation 21 indictments were returned, including three against ex-county officials, 14 against bridge corporations and two against agents. Neither the sheriff nor the prosecutor will divulge a single name in connection with the criminal returns, and say that they will cause arrests.

Amusement Resort Destroyed.
Cleveland, O., May 26.—Fire practically destroyed the famous amusement resort known as the White City, located on the shore of Lake Erie, a few miles east of Cleveland. Numerous buildings with their entire contents were completely wiped out. Several firemen were overcome by smoke, but so far as reported no one was seriously injured. The loss is estimated at $150,000, with small insurance.

Ohio Operators Meet.
Cleveland, O., May 26.—The Ohio Coal Operators' committee was in session here discussing the strike situation. J. N. Windon, president of the Ohio Operators' association, said no further conferences with the miners were desired. He said that 200 non-union miners were at work in the Plum Run mine and that more men were in sight. He added that operations would be resumed in other mines at once.

Murder or Suicide?
Columbus, O., May 26.—Mystery surrounds the shooting of Julius Hartel in the rear of Anton Adler's saloon. The police and coroner are investigating to determine whether Hartel died by his own hand or was murdered. The authorities have grave doubts that Hartel killed himself. Hartel came here two years ago from Hungary, and worked in a machine shop. He was out of employment some time.

Franklin County Republicans.
Columbus, O., May 26.—Returns from the Republican county primaries indicate the nomination of the following county ticket: For congress, E. L. Taylor, Jr. for common pleas judges, T. M. Bigger and E. B. Kinkead; for treasurer, J. T. Lindsay; for recorder, Willis T. Gibson; for commissioner, Albert M. Gibson; for coroner, Dr. Joseph A. Murphy; for infirmary director, Fay May.

tend the annual state meeting of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew. The leading figures in the Episcopal church of Ohio are here to attend the sessions Saturday and Sunday. President Robert Gardner, president of the organization in the United States, and Bishop Boyd Vincent are among the principal speakers scheduled.

Monnett to Be Recalled.
Cuyahoga, O., May 26.—The grand jury resumed its investigation of the Ohio ouster case, examining Messrs. Doyle and Lewis of Toledo, attorneys for the Ohio Central in the case. After finishing the examination of the Toledo attorneys the jury adjourned until Monday, when it is understood Judge Morris will be examined and F. S. Monnett recalled for further examination.

Ban on Free Lunch.
Columbus, O., May 26.—The man who subsists on free lunch served in saloons must now either earn his livelihood or try the back door for hand-out. The death knell to free lunches was sounded at a meeting of the saloonkeepers of Columbus. An effort will be made to raise the price of "growlers" to 10 cents.

Sue for Ten Thousand.
Gallipolis, O., May 26.—Captain Martin Brown and son, Captain Albert Brown, two of the largest steamboat operators on the Ohio, have filed a slander suit for $10,000 against Kent Thivener, a farmer and shipper. Thivener is alleged to have stated the Browns became wealthy by stealing from the shippers.

Women's Missionary Association.
Canton, O., May 26.—The Women's Missionary association of the United Brethren in Christ, in session here, decided to hold the next national convention in Memorial church, Harrisburg, Pa., in May, 1907. Mrs. L. R. Harford, Omaha, Neb., was elected president.

Three Men Caught.
Steubenville, O., May 26.—An oil well on the Scott-Case farm near Wellsburg came in unexpectedly and set fire to and burned the rig and buildings. Edward Houston, a tool dresser, and George Houston and Will H. H. H., drillers, were fatally burned.

Arm Injured.
Mt. Vernon, May 26.—James Kelly, a machinist employed at the Cooper works, had a narrow escape from having his left arm ground off by an electric crane Thursday. Mr. Kelly was working near the tracks of the crane in the new machine shop and had his left elbow resting on the track. The crane slipped down upon him, and the arm was badly crushed and bruised. It is thought that the arm would have to be amputated, but this proved not to be the case.

Fell From Scaffold.
Mt. Vernon, May 26.—Mr. Kent Cunningham, fell from a scaffold while at work Thursday receiving a severe injury to his right hip. He will be unable to resume his work for several days.

Alleged Firebug Bonds.
Mt. Vernon, May 26.—Fred Harrington, charged with arson, Friday furnished $500 bond. C. E. Ellis of the state fire marshal's office made the affidavit.

Ice Trust to Stand Trial.
Cleveland, May 26.—Judge Beacom of the Common Pleas court overruled the motions to quash the indictments recently returned by the grand jury against the members of the so-called ice trust in this city. As a result of this action, the ice men must stand trial on the charge of violating the Valentine anti-trust law.

Refuses Police Protection.
Toledo, May 26.—Declaring that the city is not in the strike-breaking business, Mayor Whitlock refused police protection for the manufacturers in the molders' strike.

Famous Strike Breakers.
The most famous strike breakers in the land are Dr. King's New Life Pills. When liver and bowels go on strike, they quickly settle the trouble, and the purifying work goes right on. Best cure for constipation, headache and dizziness. 25c at D. D. Hall's Drug Store.

PROVISIONS OF RATE BILL AS PASSED BY HOUSE AND SENATE

Summary of Great Measure Over Which Senators Fought Last Week—Amendments Must Be Concurred in by House and Act Signed by President Before It is a Law.

The railway rate bill as passed by the house of representatives and amended in the senate is in the form of an act amending the interstate commerce law of 1887 "and all acts amendatory thereof."

Its first section amends section 1 of the act of 1887 by declaring all pipe lines except those for the transportation of water and gas, natural and artificial, to be common carriers and subject to the provisions of this act. It also includes express and sleeping car companies in the term "common carriers" as used in the act. All bridges, ferries and all the road used by any corporation operating a railroad, whether owned or operated under contract, agreement or lease, are declared to be included in the term "railroad," as well as all switches, spurs, tracks and terminal facilities, freight depots, yards and grounds used by the operating corporation.

The so called private car lines are brought under the commission's jurisdiction in the following paragraph:

"The term 'transportation' shall include cars and other vehicles and all instrumentalities and facilities of shipment or carriage, irrespective of ownership or of any contract, express or implied, for the use thereof and all services in connection with the receipt, delivery, elevation and transfer in transit, ventilation, refrigeration or icing, storage and handling of property transported; and it shall be the duty of every carrier subject to the provisions of this act to provide and furnish such transportation upon reasonable request therefor and to establish through routes and just and reasonable rates applicable thereto."

"All charges," the act declares, "made for any service rendered or to be rendered in the transportation of passengers or property as aforesaid, or in connection therewith, shall be just and reasonable, and every unjust and unreasonable charge for such service or any part thereof is prohibited and declared to be unlawful."

Restrictions on Passenger Passes.

The first section also declares that "no carrier subject to the provisions of this act shall hereafter, directly or indirectly, issue or give any interstate free ticket, free pass or free transportation for passengers except to its officers, agents, employees, surgeons, physicians, actual and bona fide attorneys and members of their immediate families, to ministers of religion, local and traveling secretaries of Young Men's Christian associations, inmates of hospitals and charitable and eleemosynary institutions, to indigent, destitute and homeless persons and to such persons when transported by charitable societies or hospitals and the necessary agents employed in such transportation, to inmates of the national homes or state homes for disabled volunteer soldiers and of soldiers and sailors' homes, including those about to enter and those returning home after discharge, under arrangements with the boards of managers, and female nurses that served during the civil war, to ex-Union soldiers and sailors and ex-Confederate soldiers and to owners and caretakers of live stock when traveling with such stock or when going to point of shipment or returning from point of delivery, provided that this provision shall not be construed to prohibit the interchange of passes for the officers, agents and employees of carriers and members of their immediate families or to prohibit any carrier from carrying passengers free with the object of providing relief in cases of general epidemic, pestilence or other calamitous visitations or prevent such carrier from giving free or reduced transportation to laborers transported to any place for the purpose of supplying any demand for labor at such place. Any carrier violating this provision shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall for each offense pay to the United States a penalty of not less than $100 or more than $2,000, and any person other than the persons excepted in this provision who uses or who solicits or accepts for himself or other person any such interstate free ticket, free pass or free transportation shall be subject to a like penalty and fine."

Section 2 also provides that any person or corporation accepting a rebate shall on conviction forfeit to the United States a sum three times the rebate so accepted.

Section 3 provides that the interstate commerce commission shall make printed reports of all investigations conducted by it.

Section 4 provides that whenever complaint is made to the commission that any rates "are unjust or unreasonable, or unjustly discriminatory, or otherwise in violation of any of the provisions of this act the commission shall conduct of its business as a common carrier."

The act also provides that "any common carrier subject to the provisions of this act shall promptly, upon application of any shipper tendering interstate traffic for transportation, construct, maintain, and operate upon reasonable terms a switch connection with any private side track which may be constructed to connect with its railroad, where such connection is reasonably practicable and can be put in with safety and will furnish sufficient business to justify the construction and maintenance of the same; and shall furnish cars for the movement of such traffic to the best of its ability without discrimination in favor of or against any such shipper."

Section 2 provides first that every common carrier subject to the provisions of the act of 1887 as above amended shall file with the interstate commerce commission and print and keep open to public inspection schedules showing all rates, passenger, freight or pipe line, between different points on its own system and between its own points and those of other corporations.

Freight shipped through foreign countries from one point in the United States to another is included in this provision. Thirty days' notice to the commission and to the public must be given before any changes in published rates may take effect.

Rebates Prohibited.

Rebates are declared unlawful in the following paragraph:

"No carrier shall, unless otherwise provided by this act, engage or participate in the transportation of passengers or property, as defined in the first section of this act, unless the rates, fares and charges upon which the same are transported by said carrier have been filed and published in accordance with the provisions of this section, nor shall any carrier charge or demand or collect or receive a greater or less or different compensation for such transportation of passengers or property or for any service in connection therewith between the points named in such tariffs than the rates, fares and charges which are specified in the tariff filed and in effect at the time, nor shall any carrier refund or remit in any manner or by any device any portion of the rates, fares and charges so specified nor extend to any shipper or person any privileges or facilities in the transportation of passengers or property except such as are specified in such tariffs."

Prison For Rebaters.

The willful failure upon the part of a common carrier to file and publish rates as required by the law is made a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of not less than $1,000 nor more than $20,000 for each offense. Corporations giving, taking, soliciting or offering rebates are made subject to the same penalty. In addition it is provided that any officer or director of a corporation convicted of giving, taking, offering or soliciting rebates shall, in addition to the fine stated above, be liable to imprisonment for not more than two years. Such violations of the act shall be prosecuted in the federal judicial districts in which they are committed. Acts of agents are regarded as acts of the common carrier.

Section 2 also provides that any person or corporation accepting a rebate shall on conviction forfeit to the United States a sum three times the rebate so accepted.

Section 3 provides that the interstate commerce commission shall make printed reports of all investigations conducted by it.

Section 4 provides that whenever complaint is made to the commission that any rates "are unjust or unreasonable, or unjustly discriminatory, or otherwise in violation of any of the provisions of this act the commission shall conduct of its business as a common carrier."

The act also provides that "any common carrier subject to the provisions of this act shall promptly, upon application of any shipper tendering interstate traffic for transportation, construct, maintain, and operate upon reasonable terms a switch connection with any private side track which may be constructed to connect with its railroad, where such connection is reasonably practicable and can be put in with safety and will furnish sufficient business to justify the construction and maintenance of the same; and shall furnish cars for the movement of such traffic to the best of its ability without discrimination in favor of or against any such shipper."

Section 2 provides first that every common carrier subject to the provisions of the act of 1887 as above amended shall file with the interstate commerce commission and print and keep open to public inspection schedules showing all rates, passenger, freight or pipe line, between different points on its own system and between its own points and those of other corporations.

Freight shipped through foreign countries from one point in the United States to another is included in this provision. Thirty days' notice to the commission and to the public must be given before any changes in published rates may take effect.

Rebates are declared unlawful in the following paragraph:

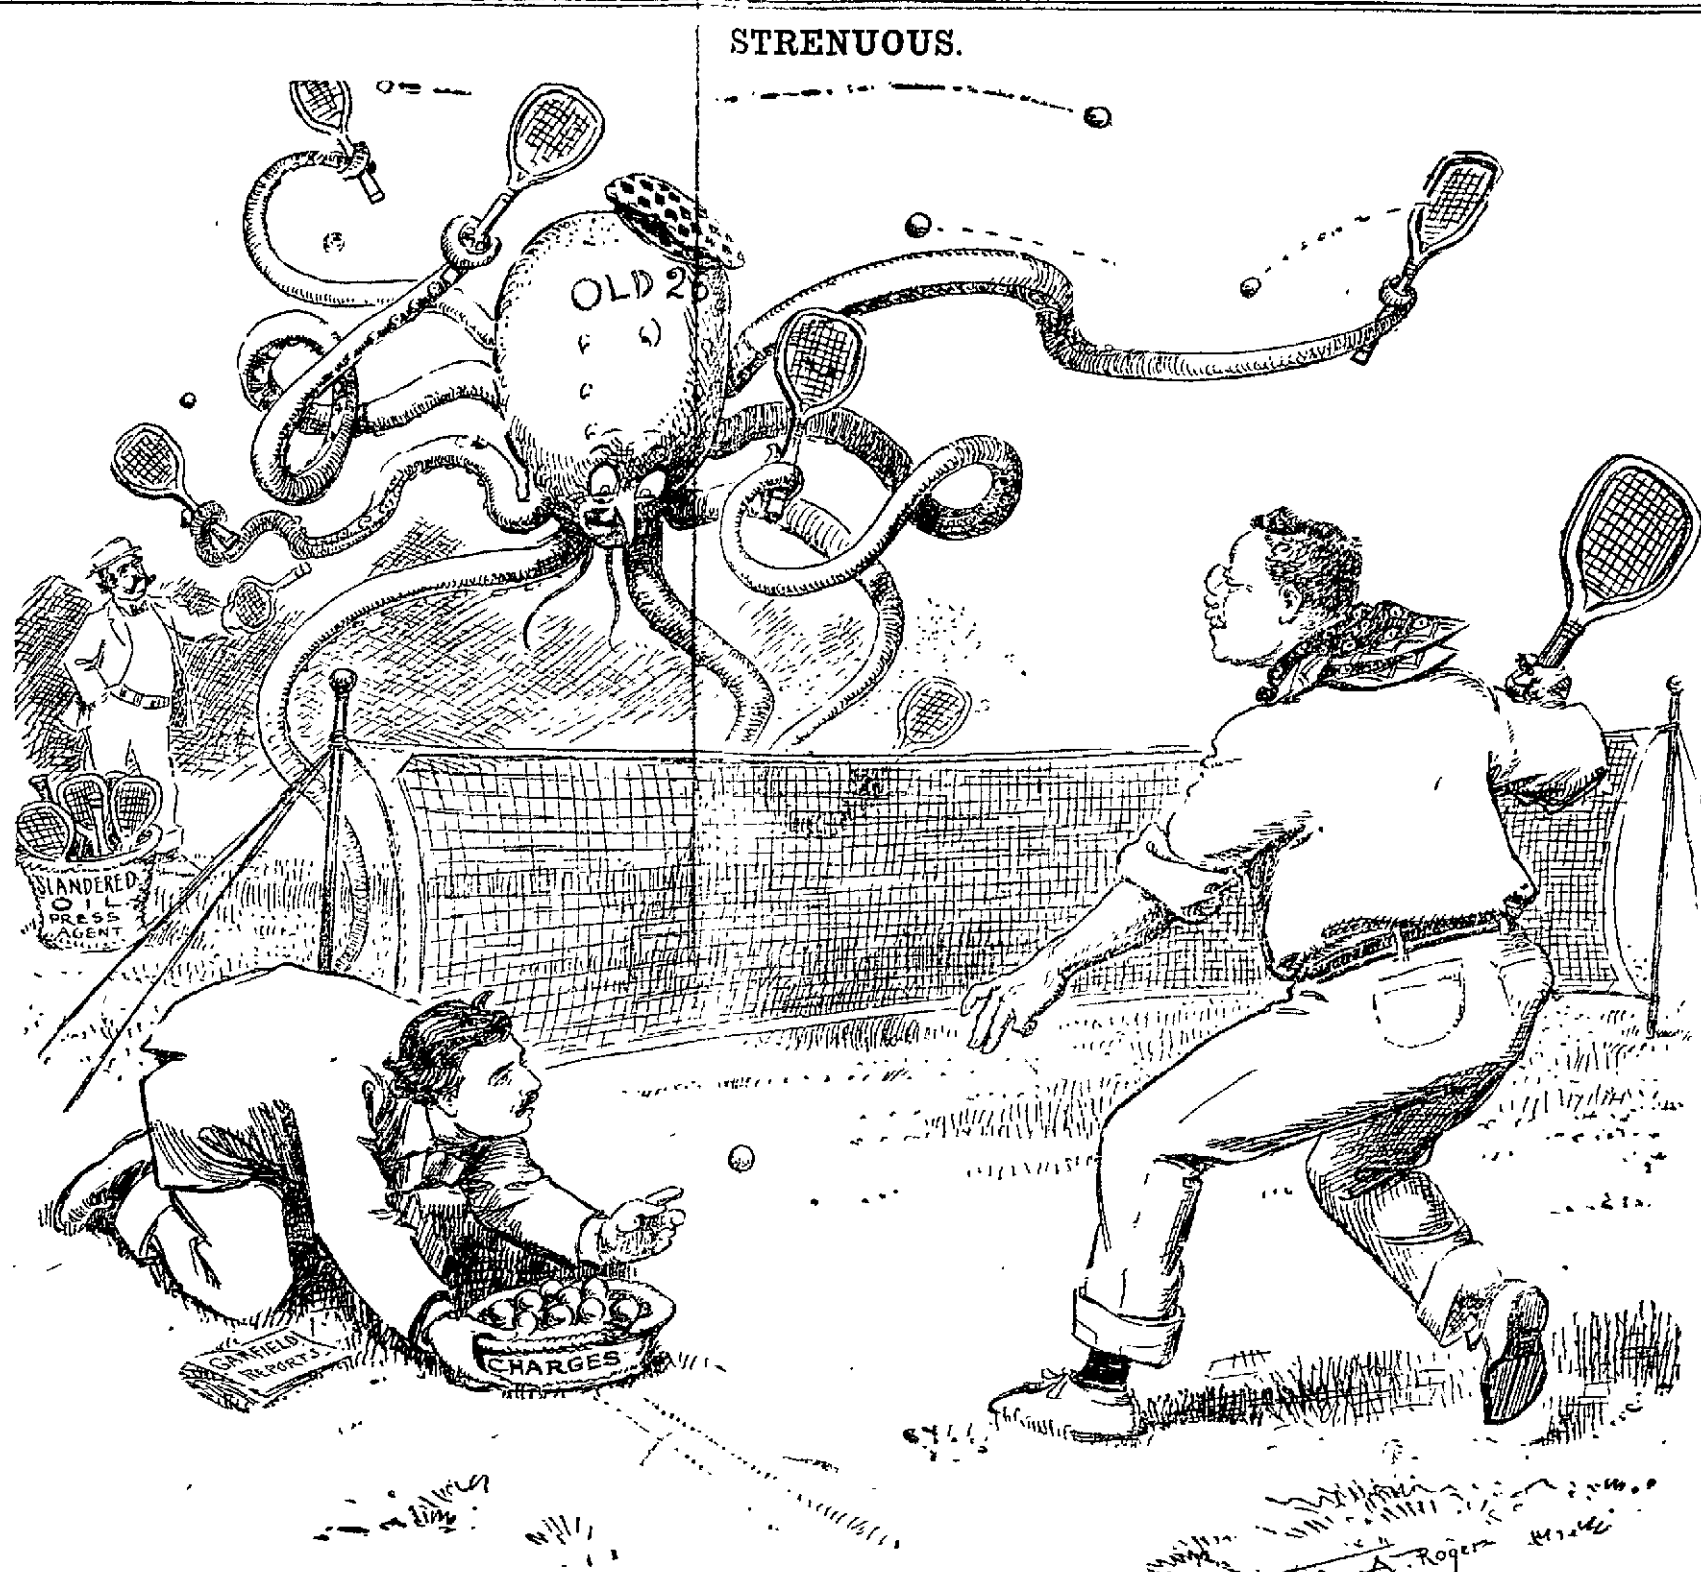

"No carrier shall, unless otherwise provided by this act, engage or participate in the transportation of passengers or property, as defined in the first section of this act, unless the rates, fares and charges upon which the same are transported by said carrier have been filed and published in accordance with the provisions of this section, nor shall any carrier charge or demand or collect or receive a greater or less or different compensation for such transportation of passengers or property or for any service in connection therewith between the points named in such tariffs than the rates, fares and charges which are specified in the tariff filed and in effect at the time, nor shall any carrier refund or remit in any manner or by any device any portion of the rates, fares and charges so specified nor extend to any shipper or person any privileges or facilities in the transportation of passengers or property except such as are specified in such tariffs."

The willful failure upon the part of a common carrier to file and publish rates as required by the law is made a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of not less than $1,000 nor more than $20,000 for each offense. Corporations giving, taking, soliciting or offering rebates are made subject to the same penalty. In addition it is provided that any officer or director of a corporation convicted of giving, taking, offering or soliciting rebates shall, in addition to the fine stated above, be liable to imprisonment for not more than two years. Such violations of the act shall be prosecuted in the federal judicial districts in which they are committed. Acts of agents are regarded as acts of the common carrier.

Section 2 also provides that any person or corporation accepting a rebate shall on conviction forfeit to the United States a sum three times the rebate so accepted.

Section 3 provides that the interstate commerce commission shall make printed reports of all investigations conducted by it.

Section 4 provides that whenever complaint is made to the commission that any rates "are unjust or unreasonable, or unjustly discriminatory, or otherwise in violation of any of the provisions of this act the commission shall

OHIO CAN GO DEMOCRATIC

AND REPUBLICAN BOSSES ARE MUCH MORE LAMBLIKE THAN FORMERLY.

Cox Admits He is a Dead Boss—Foraker and Dick Keeping Very Sly.

Columbus, May 25.—It is amusing to note the extreme modesty nowadays of Republican bosses in this state who formerly stood habitually in the limelight and issued their thunderous edicts after a manner that would do credit to an Indian potentate. Where formerly they roared and snorted while giving commands to the minions prostrated at their feet, now they seek dark corners and devious ways and converse only in whispers while assuming an entirely lamblike aspect.

The recent demonstration that Ohio can go Democratic under certain circumstances is responsible for this condition. It suggests the painful hypothesis to the Republican statesmen that if those circumstances are not remedied—and they have not been to any great extent—the state will go Democratic again. So all the big and little Republican chiefs are disclaiming any purpose of demanding anything and plead piteously that they don't even want anything. Mr. Cox admits that he is a dead boss, while secretly figuring out how he can galvanize himself into life again.

Mr. Herick pleads guilty to an indefinite retirement from politics, while studiously devising means to get back again. Mr. Foraker says that he has really nothing to ask of the coming state convention, but might privately admit that this is because it wouldn't have much weight if he did ask for anything. Mr. Dickson avers that he had no further use for the ironclad machine he has built up in this state, and now looks for the reward of his labors in the future and a happier life rather than from the Republican party of Ohio.

So it goes. The would-be bosses are all over-anxious to have the people believe that they have retired from the boom business. Meanwhile they occasionally get an unsolicited jolt in this direction, as Senator Foraker did at Steubenville the other day, when the Jefferson county Republican convention endorsed everything in sight except the senior senator. It is probable that no man in Mr. Foraker's position ever received a harder turn-down than he got on this occasion, and no observer of current events can fail to notice that he is suffering in a similar manner in other quarters. Yet it would be a rash prediction to prophesy that Foraker cannot, after all, overcome his enemies within the party and emerge from the conflict with flying colors in 1908. There are indications that the present opposition to him is only a spasm and that he may ere long be on top again.

Taking a broader view of the political field, it may also be well to keep an eye on the county conventions in Ohio during the next few months with reference to presidential ambitions. The Republican can endorse Roosevelt in a perfunctory kind of a way, but this means nothing for the future in the face of his off-repeated declarations that he will not be a candidate. On the Democratic side a strong Bryanward tendency is already noted. The county conventions have undoubtedly demonstrated continued loyalty to the Nebraska, and its manifestation promises to increase as the summer wanes. So far as county conventions at this early day can indicate sentiment in the state, Ohio Democracy is for Mr. Bryan's renomination. At any rate no other candidate is now being considered.

Perkins Liberated. New York, May 25.—The appellate division of the supreme court handed down a decision discharging from custody George W. Perkins, whom the supreme court had held in default of bail for the grand jury on a charge of grand larceny in connection with the campaign contributions of the New York Life Insurance company to the Democratic national convention.

Fatally Scalded. Fremont, O., May 25.—George Powell was fatally scalded by falling into a vat of boiling water at a factory at Burgoyne. He was wrapped in blankets and taken to the Toledo hospital.

PRESBYTERIANS MEET IN COLUMBUS

OHIO CAPITAL CHOSEN AS THE MEETING PLACE NEXT YEAR ON FRIDAY.

St. Louis Also Wanted the Next General Assembly But Columbus Won.

Des Moines, Ia., May 26.—Columbus, O., was chosen as the meeting place for next year's session of the Presbyterian general assembly, defeating St. Louis by an overwhelming vote on the first ballot. Columbus urged priority of claim, because of its previous efforts for several years to secure the assembly, while St. Louis urged that reunion with the Cumberland church made it desirable to hold the assembly in a distinctively southern city.

Assassin Identified.

Moscow, May 26.—The man who attempted to assassinate Vice Admiral Douhassoff, governor general of Moscow, May 6, by throwing a bomb at him while the governor general was being driven to the palace has been identified as a naval lieutenant named Holschervnikoff, formerly attached to the Black sea fleet.

Fatally Scalded.

Fremont, O., May 25.—George Powell was fatally scalded by falling into a vat of boiling water at a factory at Burgoyne. He was wrapped in blankets and taken to the Toledo hospital.

against Thomas and Taggart until the motion for a new trial is disposed of. George H. Crosby, general freight traffic manager for the Burlington railway, on trial on the same charge, was discharged, the court sustaining a demurrer alleging that no evidence had been presented to connect Crosby with a conspiracy.

Horse Men Indicted.

Kansas City, Mo., May 26.—The grand jury has returned six indictments against Dr. J. S. Gardner, president of the Kansas City Jockey club, and Charles Oldham, a bookmaker, for violation of the pool selling act passed at the last legislature. It was charged in the indictments that they violated the law last Saturday in the races at Elm Ridge track. The races were run to test the law, but the county prosecutor at the time declined to cause the arrest of the participants.

MEXICAN "FLUNKS" AND NO FIGHT

Refuses to Weigh in at the Last Minute and a Big Crowd of Sports Was Disappointed.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 26.—There was no fight between Battling Nelson, the lightweight champion, and Aurelio Herrera here as scheduled. After a most interminable wait of two and a half hours the crowd was dismissed because Herrera refused to weigh in. Before the crowd of 1,500 was finally dismissed there was a squabble between the fighters and their managers over the weight. Both sides made charges of shady practices.

Fooled the Bloodhounds.

Summit, Miss., May 26.—Finding it impossible to escape a mob of frenzied white men close on their trail, Joe and Henry Toler, negroes, of New Hope church, ambushed the bloodhounds and freed the animals to a nearby tree. Their escape from this point was completely covered and it is impossible for the sheriff or members of his posse to find any clue to their whereabouts. The Toler brothers are wanted in New Hope church for a double murder and wounding two other negroes.

EVERY RIVAL DRIVEN OUT

According to His Testimony George L. Lane Was Employed

TO CRUSH ALL COMPETITION

WITH THE STANDARD OIL COMPANY IN NORTHERN OHIO

Former Attorney General Sheets at Cleveland in Answer to a Subpoena.

Cleveland, O., May 26.—Two sessions were held by the interstate commerce commission in the Standard Oil inquiry, 19 witnesses being called.

The direct testimony of George L. Lane of Mansfield, O., a former employee of the Standard Oil company, was regarded as particularly important. According to his evidence Lane was for about 14 months in 1901 and 1902 employed by the Standard Oil company for the particular purpose of driving all of the independent oil peddlers in a dozen or more of the principal cities and towns of northern Ohio out of business. He said he was employed by C. M. Lyons of the Cleveland office of the Standard Oil company to go to certain designated places and use every means fair or foul to force the independent people to quit.

Lane said: "I was given rigid instructions, and I followed them as close as possible. I succeeded in driving out all competition in a dozen big towns in northern Ohio, and the only failure I made was in Youngstown, where a man by the name of Fahey struck it out, notwithstanding that we spent as high as six dollars a gallon to give oil away. The whole idea was to discourage the small, independent dealer and buy his customers at our cost. We represented ourselves as independents, but we got our supplies from the Standard."

Miss Elizabeth Protzman, a stenographer and bookkeeper in the Dayton office of the Standard Oil company, testified that information concerning shipments by rivals was brought in by daymen and that she made careful record of them. John O'Brien, general superintendent of the Lima division of the Buckeye Pipe Line company, a Standard concern, was asked about the Standard's telegraph system. The inquiries established that the Standard has a telegraph system of its own extending to nearly every part of the country. The company has its own wires, leased or otherwise, operators, offices, regulations and blanks and sometimes sends messages for persons not connected with the company.

Other witnesses included: D. E. Ryles, secretary and treasurer of the Independent Refining company, Oil City, Pa.; Frank J. Heimerich, Bellevue, O.; W. J. Cram, Marietta, O.; W. E. Wall, president of the Fred L. Clark company, Cleveland; E. M. Gibbs, Tipton, O.; Charles A. Ricks, Cleveland; George L. Lewis, lubricating oil salesman, Chicago; and C. B. Duffy, purchasing agent of the Hocking Valley railroad. The last, when asked if he had not said recently that his road would lose from $150,000 to $200,000 a year in lubricants if he bought lubricating oil from any other company than the Standard or Galena, replied that he had not made such a remark, but he had no positive recollection of it. He said he had no instructions from his superiors to say anything from the Standard to other companies.

Former Attorney General J. M. Sheets of Ohio is expected here in response to a subpoena from the interstate commerce commission. He is expected to testify concerning the dispute between the Standard Oil company and the independent oil companies. The Standard Oil company has been accused of driving its rivals out of business by using every means fair or foul to force the independent people to quit.

COME ON IN; THE WATER'S FINE! HEARD AGAIN AS BEEZES BRING MORE HEAT.

Story of a String

"I'm only a piece of string, but I have my feelings, and I'm very grateful to Tommy for saving me from the fire."

The piece of string lay coiled up in Tommy's pocket, and he was speaking to a pencil, with whom he was on friendly terms.

"I never was as nearly lost as yesterday," he went on, "though I've suffered a great deal in my time. Once I was fifty yards long, and look at me now!"

"Tell me how it happened," begged the pencil.

"Once upon a time, though you'll hardly believe me," said the string, "I was a beautiful green waving plant called hemp. I lived in the country then, and except for one cottage there were no houses near. In this cottage there lived a mother and a father and a dear little baby. How I loved that baby, and how I should like to see him again!"

"Well, one day I was cut down. That was bad enough, but there was worse to follow. I was sent to a factory, where I endured all sorts of tortures, and when at length I left it I was no longer a plant, but a fine large ball of string."

"I next visited a place called a shop, and to this shop Tommy's uncle came and bought a toy ship and a jumping rope for Tommy and his sister. The storekeeper cut off this piece of me to tie up the parcel. Then I would have been thrown into the fire if Tommy had not saved me."

At that moment Tommy's little hand was thrust into his pockets, and he drew out a string. He and his sister were sitting before the fire in rather a disconsolate mood, for it was a wet afternoon.

"Let's play cat's cradle," said Dolly. "All right," answered Tommy, and he knotted the string and slipped it over his chubby hands.

Now, it is wonderful what an exciting game "cat's cradle" can be when played by two good little people and a friendly piece of string, and when the door opened presently and mother came in she found them happy and contented.

"Well," said she, "I wonder if you would leave off now, darling, and help me to put up a parcel of toys to send to a little sick child in the country?"

Then she told them that their old nurse, who had married and gone to live in the country, had a little son who was ill. So very willingly the children made a parcel of their old toys, and Tommy produced his string to fasten it.

And now comes the strangest part of the story. When the parcel reached the sick child the string found, to its great joy, that it had come back to the same little child it had known long ago. I am so glad to say the boy soon grew well again and was able to play in the fields with the other children. And as for the piece of string, it lies neatly coiled up in the cottage window.

A Toy Telephone.

First, get two tin cans—the small baking powder cans are best—take a long piece of stout cord, free from knots, for the wire; take two burnt matches and, after punching a hole in the center of each can bottom, put the cord through the holes and tie a match stick to each end. The cord (wire) should be rubbed with resin to carry the sound. If one person will stand at one end of the line when it is drawn tight, the one at the other can hear a whisper spoken into the can at the farther end of the line.

Ana, Mena, Monna, Mike.
In an empty room we three
Play the games we always like
And count to see who will be—
Ana, mena, monna, mike.

Round and round the rhyme will go
Ere the final word shall strike,
Counting fast or counting slow—
Barcelona, bona, strike.

What it all means no one knows,
Mixed up like a peddler's pack
As from door to door he goes—
Hare, ware, frow, frow.

Now we guess, and now we doubt,
Words enough or words we lack,
Till the rhyming brings about
Welcomed with a farewell shout,
Hallico, ballico, we-wi-wo-wack, out!

The Curious Figure 9

The figure 9 has curious properties. Some reader may be able to explain them. For instance, multiply 9 by any other number from 2 to 9 and the sum of the two figures which make the total will also make 9. Thus, 3 times 9, or 27, is made up of the two numerals 2 and 7, which, added together, make 9.

Another thing: Take any figure from 2 to 9 and add 9 consecutively until an even number appears. The sum of the two numerals comprising each total is the same as the figure originally started with.

Take the figure 7. The first total of 7 plus 9 is 16, the second 25, third 34, fourth 43, fifth 52, sixth 61, seventh 70. Now add 1 and 6 or 2 and 5 or any of the other two figures which make each total, and the result is always 7.

One more fact: Look at the following table where 9 is consecutively added in rows to the figures 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9 and 10 for starting points. Take column six for illustration. Read downward the first figures in each line and they run thus: 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6. Read downward the last figures in each line and they run thus: 5, 4, 3, 2, 1, 0.

The same peculiarity will be noticed in each other column.

Now, why do the numerals of each total always make the sum we start with and why, up and down, units and tens, is there the regular sequence of figures?

Loud Talking.

A good many boys and girls fall into the bad habit of talking in a loud tone of voice. Now, the next time they catch themselves doing that, let them stop and think of this, the ordinary human voice, speaking in the open air, when it is calm, may be heard at a distance of 400 feet, and a powerful voice, speaking with the wind, when it is blowing gently, may be heard at a distance of 15,000 feet. If ordinary tones can be heard 400 feet away, what's the use of straining your vocal chords and deafening the people around you by shouting at the top of your lungs? Don't talk as if you were in a mill, but in a gentle tone always. It is a mark of good breeding.

Thermometer and Wind.

Many persons, if asked about it, would say that the thermometer is affected by the wind, but it is not. If you stand out where the wind can blow freely over you you feel the cold much more than you do when sheltered—say, by the corner of a building—but it is different with a thermometer. Try it by hanging up two thermometers, one in the wind and the other in a sheltered place near by, and you will find that they mark the same temperature, everything else being equal. Wind is merely air in motion, and the motion does not make it colder. You feel the cold more sensibly when exposed to it because the current of air takes heat away from your body.

SUGGESTION FOR AN OPEN CAR.

RATE BILL

prescribe what will be the just and reasonable rate or rates, charge or charges, to be thereafter observed in such case as the maximum to be charged; and what regulation or practice in respect to such transportation is just, fair, and reasonable to be thereafter followed; and to make an order that the carrier shall cease and desist from such violation, to the extent to which the commission find the same to exist, and shall not thereafter publish, demand, or collect any rate or charge for such transportation in excess of the maximum rate or charge so prescribed, and shall conform to the regulation or practice so prescribed.

Rates Take Effect in Thirty Days.

All orders of the commission, except orders for the payment of money, shall take effect within such reasonable time, not less than thirty days, and shall continue in force for such period of time, not exceeding two years, as shall be prescribed in the order of the commission, unless the same shall be suspended or modified or set aside by the commission or be suspended or set aside by a court of competent jurisdiction.

The commission may also after hearing on a complaint establish through routes and joint rates as the maximum to be charged.

Section 5 provides that if after hearing on a complaint the commission shall determine that any party complainant is entitled to an award of damages under the provisions of this act for a violation thereof the commission shall make an order directing the carrier to pay to the complainant the sum to which he is entitled on or before a day named.

Section 6 provides that after a decision, order or requirement has been made by the commission in any proceeding any party thereto may at any time make application for rehearing of the same or any matter determined therein, and it shall be lawful for the commission in its discretion to grant such a rehearing if sufficient application therefor be made to appear. Application for rehearing shall be governed by such general rules as the commission may establish. No such application shall excuse any carrier from obeying any decision of the commission.

Bills of Lading.

Section 6 also says "that any common carrier, railroad or transportation company receiving property for transportation from one state to a point in another state shall issue a receipt or bill of lading therefor and shall be liable to the holder thereof for any loss, damage or injury to such property caused by it or by any common carrier, railroad or transportation company to which such property may be delivered or over whose line or lines such property may pass, and no contract, receipt, rule or regulation shall exempt such common carrier, railroad or transportation company from the liability herein imposed, provided that nothing in this section shall deprive any holder of such receipt or bill of lading of any remedy or right of action which he has under existing law."

Petitions of shippers in suits for damages may be filed in the United States circuit court in the district in which the petitioner resides, and in such suits all parties in whose favor the commission may have made an award for damages by a single order may be joined as plaintiffs, and all of the carriers parties to such order awarding such damages may be joined as defendants.

Such suits shall proceed in all respects like other civil suits for damages, except that on the trial of such suits the findings and order of the commission shall be prima facie evidence of the facts therein stated and except that the petitioner shall not be liable for costs in the circuit court nor for costs at any subsequent stage of the proceedings unless they accrue upon his appeal. If the petitioner shall finally prevail he shall be allowed a reasonable attorney's fee, to be taxed and collected as a part of the costs of the suit. All complaints for the recovery of damages shall be filed with the commission within two years from the time the cause of action accrues and not after, and a petition for the enforcement of an order for the payment of money shall be filed in the circuit court within a year from the date of the order and not after, provided that accrued claims may be presented within a year.

The Court Review Section.

The court review section, upon which the fight in the senate was hottest, is as follows: "The venue of suits brought in any of the circuit courts of the United States against the commission to enforce, set aside, amend or suspend any order or requirement of the commission shall be in the district where the carrier against whom such order or requirement may have been made has its principal operating office and may be brought at any time after such order is provided."

"Provided that no injunction, interlocutory order or decree suspending or restraining the enforcement of an order of the commission shall be granted except on hearing after not less than five days' notice to the commission. An appeal may be taken from any interlocutory order or decree granting or continuing an injunction in any suit, but shall lie only to the supreme court of the United States; provided, further, that the appeal must be taken within thirty days from the entry of such order or decree, and it shall take precedence in the appellate court over all other causes except causes of like character and criminal causes."

Federal Prosecution for Forfeitures.

The form of prosecution for forfeitures for violations of the act is thus defined: "It shall be the duty of the various district attorneys, under the direction of the attorney general of the United States, to prosecute for the recovery of forfeitures. The costs and expenses of such prosecution shall be paid out of the appropriation for the expenses of the courts of the United States. The commission may, with the consent of the attorney general, employ special counsel in any proceeding under this act, paying the expenses of such employment out of its own appropriation."

Section 7 provides that all common carriers must make annual reports to the interstate commerce commission and answer such questions as the commission may ask. It also provides for monthly reports of earnings and expenses and that the commission may prescribe the form of any and all accounts, records and memoranda to be kept by common carriers. Failure to keep such accounts as are prescribed by the commission is made punishable by a fine of $500 for each such offense and for each and every day of the continuance of such offense.

Imprisonment for False Entries.

Any person who shall willfully make any false entry in such accounts or willfully destroy, mutilate, alter or falsify or neglect to make full, accurate and true entries in such accounts is made liable to a fine of not less than $1,000 nor more than $5,000 or imprisonment for not less than one year nor more than three years or both such fine and imprisonment.

To carry out and give effect to the provisions of the act the commission is hereby authorized to employ special agents or examiners who shall have power to examine under oath, examine witnesses and to receive evidence.

Any examiner who divulges any fact or information which may come to his knowledge during the course of such examination, except in so far as he may be directed by the commission or by a court or judge thereof, shall be subject to a fine of not more than $5,000 or imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years, or both.

Section 8 provides that all existing laws relating to the attendance of witnesses and the production of evidence and the compelling of testimony under the act to regulate commerce and all acts amendatory thereof shall apply to any and all proceedings and hearings under this act.

Section 9 provides that all laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed, but the amendments herein provided for shall not affect causes now pending in courts of the United States, but such causes shall be prosecuted to a conclusion in the manner heretofore provided by law.

Section 10 provides that the act shall take effect immediately upon its passage.

NERVE TABLETS

Sergeant Orr's Letter

Nerve troubles are real. They lead to disastrous results. That may happen to any one. Zell Nerve Tablets feed starved nerves. That's why they restore perfect health. They build nerve strength. They tone up the nervo-spinal system and make rich red blood.

Read what Sergeant Orr, winner of the Sea Girt championship medal for rifle shooting, says about Zell Nerve Tablets:

NEWARK, OHIO, Sept. 18, 1905.

THE ZELL DRUG CO., Galion, Ohio.
Gentlemen:—I am writing you to recommend Zell Nerve Tablets. When I was a private in the 10th Ohio Infantry, I was shot in the shoulder, and was laid up for several months. I was very weak and nervous, and had a great deal of trouble in getting on my feet. I was told that Zell Nerve Tablets would help me, and I bought a box. I took them as directed, and in a few days I was able to go on duty. I was very much surprised at the result, and I have since bought several more boxes. I can now do my duty as well as ever, and I am very much indebted to you for the tablets. I am, Sir, very respectfully,
Sergeant ORR.

Price, 50 cents a Box. Sent to any address in a Plain Package

CIVIC IMPROVEMENT SENTIMENT GROWING

Interest in the Movement is Growing and Newark is in the Fore for a Beautiful City.

Newark's effort for civic improvement is not the initial one in this country. If it were, we might not be so sanguine of good results, but knowing what has been done in other places, we are confident that only good will come of our labors. We have made a beginning. We need only to look about us to see the awakening—the interest in the lawns and selections of shrubbery on them, not necessarily expensive, many being transplanted from nearby fields and woods. An interest in city and town (and country too) improvement has become widespread, every newspaper contains something—many magazines are devoted to it and all have something, either lengthy or abbreviated, and numerous illustrations.

The Ladies Home Journal is giving some interesting pictures of vacant lots before and after improvement—and just here, let it be said the before and after pictures have been a great factor as an incentive to the negligent property owner, who insensible or ignorant existing conditions is thoroughly aroused when he sees the results of his negligence photographed and conspicuously exhibited and his name connected with the unsightly view.

The last number of the Century Magazine is called the "Garden Number," of especial interest is the article—"Where to Plant What."

The Ladies Home Companion has undertaken to expose the parties employing young children in mines, factories and mills—and reproduce the poem by Elizabeth Barrett Browning, "The Cry of the Children"—the poem that thrilled and aroused England to the condition of her children years ago. To our shame let it be written there were by the census of 1900, 530,000 children between the ages of ten and fourteen unable to read or write. This in our land of free schools.

With the children lies our hope of future good work for civic beauty. Botany and agriculture are taught in the lower grades of some of the public schools in our land. Thus the child is made familiar with nature and growing things in early years. Then, too, the unwholesome effects of tobacco are taught, so that perhaps in future generations expectorating will have become an obsolete habit.

Cleanliness is the first essential of civic beauty. The lack of funds for street cleaning in Newark is greatly regretted, and on account of this lack we must for a while at least, receive much less than the amount of cleaning necessary to keep our streets as they should be. One instance let me cite. In the town of Decatur, Ill., a Civic Improvement society raised its voice but three years ago. The paved streets of the residence section are cleaned once a week, while the business portion has its cleaners in evidence all the day.

It is one ambition of the Newark society to place cans about the city for waste paper, as generally as possible, these to be emptied and contents burned and the refuse collected with the street sweepings on the day when the streets are cleaned. How many of us can testify that if the streets are clean—housekeeping cares are lessened greatly—for who in Newark has not had to contend with the dust from an unpaved street. Then there is the other and more serious side of the matter—the sanitary.

It is true we have an ordinance against spitting, but it is not enforced. We have but to look on our streets and in our cars to know this. Spitting in public places—more especially in provision stores and markets—should by all means be prohibited by penalty of a fine. We have asked a number of our Newark physicians for their opinion briefly given upon a postal and below follow a few of their answers:

"The saliva and expectorated matter often conveys the germs of disease and having been deposited on the side walks and exposed to the air becomes very dry. It is then minutely pulverized by the feet of hundreds of pedestrians and floats in the air where it can come in contact with the bodies of those on the streets. Many diseases can be communicated by this dust, the germs entering the body through the mucous membranes, but more particularly by the medium of the lungs."—Respectfully, J. W. Alexander.

"This is the whole matter in a nut shell."

"Spitting on the streets or sidewalks is a filthy habit. Under certain conditions it is a dangerous habit, and generally speaking it is a useless habit."—J. A. Mitchell, M. D.

"I think it is a nuisance to the public health and a detriment to the moral and growing youth. Our city officials should enforce ordinance on this matter."—J. W. Hambley, M. D.

We very much hope that sentiment can be aroused and the ordinance enforced.

In reply to card of recent date I would say that spitting upon the sidewalks is the source of a great deal of disease. Very truly, Harry E. Hunt.

I would say expecting on the streets is disgusting and an offense and should be prohibited by law as far as possible. I would suggest as the best method that buckets and

SONG OF THE SCORCHING CHAUFFEURS.

Honk! honk! Clear the way for the automobile!
Honk! honk! Let us ride till our brains are a reel.
We're out for a flight on this beautiful day,
Watch us fly swiftly by! Get out of the way!

The chauffeur is king of them all.
We are lords of the road and most of the air.
No others have rights, and what do we care?
Our motto is "Death!" and our mission is "scare."

Honk! honk! See multitudes fall!

CHORUS.

Noislessly we glide o'er the highway,
Eagerly we turn the corners sharp,
And the human on the avenue and byway
Might as well be picking out his harp.
We can snatch the prattling infant from its nurse's arms,
The cripple, bent and aged, is our prey,
But life to us is sweetest, and we do the job completest
When we tangle up the whiskers of the fearful jay,
When we mingle with the midriff of the jay.

Honk! honk! Who denies that the Car is the Queen
Who scatters a largess of stale gasoline?
She dashes and flashes, while all stand agape;
You can follow her trail by the fluttering of arape.

Who dares to hamper her sway?
To her nations bend as she keeps on her course.
Hal stop her who may with the cry "Get a horse!"
What boots it that men may get little sore on her?
Bang! There she goes! Now send for the coroner—
She's taking her tribute to-day.

CHORUS.

shops be provided each offender—man or woman—and that they be compelled to clean up after each offense."—W. M. Baldwin

Dr. Baldwin's suggestion has been put in operation in some places.

"It is one of the many reforms which it is impossible to enforce. This can only be done by education. Men who spit on their own store floors and curbs at home will not pay any respect to ordinances pertaining to cleanliness. However, the time is here to start this reform, as it will undoubtedly do some good."—Respectfully B. F. Barnes

"I am heartily in sympathy with your movement and hope I may be able to help you in this or some other way."—H. H. Baker, M. D.

Citizens, one and all let us unite to labor for the public good and a CLEAN NEWARK.

Interesting Incident.

An interesting incident was that which occurred at the Warden Friday when a traveling man stopping at the hotel presented a five dollar bill for a purchase at the cigar stand. In change he was given four one dollar bills on one of which was a large "26" was observed. It had evidently been placed there with an indelible pencil.

When the stranger noticed the figure he quickly picked up the bill and turning it over requested the clerk to examine it in certain places for the letter "L", his last initial. The letter was found and this started the drummer to talking. He stated that he ran across that identical bill with the figure on it about two years ago in a town in Maine, and that he laughingly marked his initial on it, remarking that he would send his initial over the country with it, of course never thinking of it until it was given him in change at the Warden.

The incident was indeed interesting to those who witnessed it and the drummer was as much affected as if he had found a long lost brother.

'FRISCO RUINS CLAIM HIS ALL

Homeless, Penniless, Mourning Bread
Baker Arrives at Zanesville
Last Night.

Zanesville, May 26.—James Glassford, aged 43, homeless, penniless, mourner and refugee from San Francisco is the description of a former resident of Zanesville who arrived in the city last evening. So great has been his loss in the terrible earthquake and fire in San Francisco that Glassford's mind is thought to be affected.

Years ago, 28 to be exact, Glassford was an employee of John Blankenbuhler, the Main street restaurant proprietor, as a baker. He journeyed over the country, was married and settled in 'Frisco. Ready to draw 300 loaves of bread from his oven on the morning of the quake Glassford was caught as were hundreds of others, without warning.

Building, ovens and bread, were piled in on him. Fire followed but Glassford finally escaped. His wife, two sons aged 18 and 16 years, and a daughter of 12 years, who lived in the frame residence district of the city, were cremated. Three days and nights the mourning husband and father searched for his loved ones—but all for naught.

His irreparable loss bearing heavy on his mind Glassford made his way eastward. When he arrived in Zanesville yesterday he was penniless and hungry. Both wants were satisfied and Glassford made his way on to Newark late last night where he hopes to secure employment as a baker.

GRANVILLE NEWS

Granville, May 26.—The diamond anniversary and seventy-fifth commencement exercises of Denison University at Granville, will take place June 8 to 14th. Great preparations have been made by the students, the residents of the villages and the former residents, alumni and students of the various Granville schools. The exercises begin Friday evening with a recital given by the Seniors of the Conservatory of Music. Saturday evening the young ladies of the Senior class will present "As You Like It," a precedent set by the class of 1905 which 1906 considers worth following. Sunday is baccalaureate day, Monday field day, Tuesday, Doane academy graduation exercises. Wednesday special anniversary day and Thursday Denison university commencement, with every moment filled in with exercises, field events, base ball, class reunions, something to make everybody interested and happy.

On Friday evening the members of the Junior class of Denison university very delightfully entertained the faculty and seniors in the reception hall and piazza of Cleveland hall. The open piazza was prettily decorated with maple boughs, and punch was served during the evening. The reception was a success in every way and was thoroughly enjoyed by all. Mr. Lawrence Irwin, president of the Senior class, took this occasion to present formally to the incoming Senior class in behalf of this year's graduating class, the traditional shoe. The shoe appeared resplendent in its new coat of black and red. Senior colors, and was very graciously received by Mr. William Spencer, president of the present Junior class, who accepted the shoe with a few appropriate remarks. This ceremony of handing down the shoe is usually observed on class day, but this year's commencement is so occupied by exercises prepared to celebrate the diamond anniversary that the Seniors have had to abandon the idea of having the customary class day exercises on the hill on Wednesday morning of commencement week.

To Rural Patrons.

Postmaster Heisey has received the following official notice, which will be of interest to all patrons of rural routes:

1. On and after July 1, 1906, patrons of the rural delivery service will be required to display signals on their boxes when they leave mail in them for carriers to collect, as after that date, carriers, when serving their routes, will not be required to open and examine any mail boxes except those to which they have mail to deliver and those on which signals are displayed to indicate there is mail for carriers to collect.

2. Those patrons whose boxes are not provided with signals must attach thereto some device which, when displayed, will plainly show passing carriers there is mail to be collected. It is not necessary that such device shall be either complicated or costly; a very simple arrangement will answer the purpose.

3. Carriers must lower the signals on boxes after making collections, provided no mail is left thereon; and must display the signals when they deposit mail for patrons, unless the patrons have made request to the contrary. P. V. DeGRAW, Fourth Asst. Postmaster General.
